COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1921 — 124th of the General Assembly

Vol. 6. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 18, 1921 No. 47.

SENATE

MONDAY, April 18, 1921.

The Senate met at 8 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Edward E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Rev. John T. Davis offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Father, the Creator of all things, the creator of man and breathing into his nostrils the breath of life, he became a living soul, possessing the faculty of thought, the disposition of love, and the power to decide. We invoke Thy richest benediction upon this gathering tonight, and may these three great faculties and powers created in man be used to the very best advantage for all who are deeply concerned. Bless this Commonwealth and those who govern and rule it, and bless that which shall be made a part of the laws of this land, and may they all be directed and lead under the guiding hand and power of Almighty God. We ask it in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HOMSHER, the further reading was dispensd with, and th Journal was approved.

Long, Snyder.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS RECOMMITTED.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 621, (House Bill No. 708), on third reading, entitled:

An Act concerning the proof of statutes of other jurisdiction and to make uniform the law with reference thereto be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this bill has been with the Judiciary General Committee twice and therefore, I hope the Senate will not send it back. It belongs to my colleague in the House and I would like to know what is the matter with it.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I made the motion for the purpose of referring it back to the Committee on Judiciary General for a hearing. The sponsor of this bill is no more the colleague of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, than he is my colleague. If there are any objections to a hearing I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia what they are.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I do not pretend to understand the bill. I know it has been in the Judiciary General Committee twice and has the approval of the Judiciary General Commttiee. It is pretty late to send this bill back.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 622, (House Bill No. 709), on third reading, entitled:

An Act concerning the taking of depositions in this State to be used in any foreign jurisdiction and to make uniform the law with reference thereto be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

Mr. McCONNELL, from the Committee on Judiciary Special, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 906, (House Bill No. 1153), entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and six (c) of an act approved June 2, 1915 (Pamphlet Laws 736, entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment, establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder," as amended, by providing a schedule of specific indemnities for the loss of one or more thumbs or fingers or parts thereof.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 633, as follows:

An Act to amend section five hundred and forty-two as amended and section five hundred and forty-three of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by imposing an occupation tax for school purposes on female residents of school districts of the second third and fourth class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section five hundred and forty-two of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" which as amended by the act approved the seventeenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and ninety-seven) entitled "An act to amend sections five hundred and forty-two one thousand five hundred and one one thousand five hundred and three one thousand five hundred and five and two thousand three hundred and ten of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled 'An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent herewith'" reads as follows

"Section 542 Each male resident or inhabitant over twenty-one years of age in every school district of the second third and fourth classes in this Commonwealth shall annually pay for the use of the school district in which he is a resident or inhabitant a tax of not less than one dollar nor more than five dollars as may be assessed by the local school district" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 542 Each male and female resident or inhabitant over twenty-one years of age in every school district of the second third and fourth classes in this Commonwealth shall annually pay for the use of the school district in which he or she is a resident or inhabitant an accunation tax of not less than one dollar nor more than five dollars as may be assessed by the local school district

tant over twenty-one years of age in the district it shall be the duty of the proper assessors in each such school district of this Commonwealth to assess every male and female resident or inhabitant in such school district over twenty-one years of age with an occupation at such amount as shall be proper and return the same with the other taxable property in the district as provided by law. In each school district all such assessments of occupation shall be included and certified in the list of taxable property to be certified to the board of school directors in each such school district as herein provided

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 1 page 3, line 13, by inserting after the word "the" the word "first"; also section 2, page 4, line 9, by inserting after the word "the" the word "first".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended,

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 643, entitled:

An Act creating a Department of Game and Fish; charging the department with the enforcement, administration and execution of laws heretofore enforced, administered and executed by or through the Department of Fisheries, and the Board of Game Commissioners; defining the powers and duties of the department and prescribing penalties; abolishing certain departments, boards, commissions and offices; providing for the disposition of certain moneys now held by or hereafter paid to the State Treasurer under any statute the enforcement of which is by this act imposed on the department; and making appropriations.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, for fear that there may be some misunderstanding as to the intention of this bill, I want the Senate to indulge me briefly until I explain it. The object of this bill is the consolidating of the fish and Game department. It will put them under one head. There will be a game and fish commission; there will be appointed a director of fish and a director of game and there will be appointed by the Governor an advisory board, the same as the game commission has today, the purpose of this bill is not to legislate out of office any person, but it is to effect a greater economy and efficiency and better administration of these two departments. Mr. President, you may not know that under the present law the Game Department has its wardens, the fish and game wardens, and under the law the forestry wardens are also fish and game wardens. There has been an overlapping of their duties. The forestry wardens have done very little towards enforcing the fish and game laws, the game wardens have been very reluctant about interfering with the work of the fish wardens, and the same with the fish wardens in the work of the other departments. By this bill I would make the wardens have duties that would keep them busy the year around. At the present time under the fish department there are sixty wardens and under the game department eighty-five, one hundred and eighty-five wardens altogether. I would cut it down to one hundred wardens to begin with, and I would have one strong central department. I might say further that if I were to have my way about it that the hunter's license and fisherman's license would be one license, which I would call the sportsman's license. I would give you a bargain, give you the benefit of fishing and hunting under one license. I am told today that there are more than three-quarters of a million more people who fish than hunt and if you would take this department and make one license for both fishing and hunting, you will raise by this at least a million and a quarter of dollars. I would take five or six hundred thousand dollars of that money to run the fish and game department, I would propogate more fish, and distribute more game than has ever been done in Pennsylvania before, out of the four hundred or six hundred thousand dollars, and Mr. President, after that I would turn back into the general fund three quarters of a million of dollars or more for the purposes of this State. The purpose of this bill is, as I have stated, to bring about greater efficiency in this particular department, do away with all of this overlapping. Mr. President, I might say that every person that I have heard from who has made a study of this bill, all of our newspapers, have approved it. A letter that I got today from one of the newspapers says: "We believe this to be one of the most sensible bills introduced, and wish that we could do something to help you insure its passage." I want to quote from the general manager of the company of one of the members of the game commission. Mr. Deiter, in a letter that he writes to me":

"I have just been reading your bill No. 643, and wish to congratulate you upon the Bill in its entirety.

Since our talk on this and kindred subjects at Emporium a few days ago, where I represented Mr. Speer at a conference, I believe it is unnecessary to remind you that the sportsmen of Elk County are strongly in favor of any legislation that tends to improve the fish and game conditions of the Commonwealth, but, in this particular case, I have taken occasion to talk to several of my sportsmen acquaintances and I am glad to say that your Bill is a measure which we feel will go far toward improving the efficiency of the Game Commission and the Department of Fisheries by combining these activities, I shall be very much gratified to see Bill No. 643 made a law.

Mr. Speer and the other sportsmen of this county feel that we are somewhat removed from the more thickly populated section but, on the other hand, we are located in one of the best game districts and in a district where many of the streams have their heads; and, I believe that the feeling is unanimous with us that the game and fish departments should be combined, provided, of course, that such a combination must surely result in increased efficiency for both Commissions if acting as one, we believe that the process of dove-tailing will result in the removal of all friction that might exist under the present law. We sincerely hope that every effort will be made both by yourself and your colleagues in enacting Bill No. 643 into a law to become effective on January 1, 1922.

The setting aside of small streams as nurseries is alone of very great value for protecting the smaller fish from the creel of the fish hog, and if the limit of length can be again extended to 6" as in former years and the law enforced, as will undoubtedly be possible when the fish license is compulsory. I am satisfied that trout fishing will be improved, and that Potter and Elk Counties will be protected from much of the lawlessness and unnecessary destruction which now prevails in the head waters of the principal trout streams of the Commonwealth."

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate, there is no question that if you can put two departments under one head, one set of officers, one management, that you are going to have greater efficiency and economy and better administration of the affairs of that particular department. I want to say if there are those in the Senate who do not believe that a consolidation of this kind will be advantageous to both departments, I do not ask such Senators to vote for the bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Potter, Mr. Baldwin.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Potter, Mr. Baldwin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I congratulate the Senator from Potter on his noble efforts and I would like to ask him whether he has forgotten that this bill was not to be put on the calendar for third reading and final passage, as I understood the question, until there was a hearing on this Bill on Tuesday. I am wondering whether or not that escaped the Senator's attention, having called his attention to a telegram last week.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I will say to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, that I knew that some gentleman asked for a hearing, but it was getting so late in the session that I did not advise the Sykesville Wild Life League that they might have a hearing in the Senate because we arranged for a hearing here last Wednesday when the Equal Rights bill was up here at four o'clock and the Senate Chamber was so filled that we could not have the hearing, and I thought that the hearing on this bill could just as well be deferred until it was before the House, as I imagined that certain amendments would be added there. Mr. President and gentlemen, under no circumstances would I want any misunderstanding as to a hearing.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—29.

An Act to empower the Public Service Commission to require railroad corporations to employ an adequate number of men upon trains and to repeal an act approved the nineteenth day of June, nineteen hundred and eleven (P. L. 1053), entitled: "An act to promote the safety of travelers and employes upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains."

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Section 1, page 2, lines 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 by striking out the words "including the act of June nineteenth one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws ten hundred and fifty-three) entitled "An act to promote the safety of travelers and employes upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains." Also lines 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 by striking out the words "and to repeal an act approved the nineteenth day of June nineteen hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws ten hundred and fifty-three) entitled "An act to promote the safety of travelers and employes upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection?

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resolve itself into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, whether or not he is cognizant of the fact that the Public Service Commission of the State of Pennsylvania is at the present time crowded beyond all limit, you might say, of human endurance by appeals of public service corporations, that they are months and months behind in their work. If this added burden is placed upon them, it does not seem to me, to be fair to the Commission or fair to the men or fair to the railroad company. I had spoken to the Senator tonight, it was a little late, and I asked him whether it would not be better to refer this matter to the Bureau of Mediation established by law in the Department of Labor and Industry in the State of Pennsylvania. I do not think the Senator has had a chance to think the thing over, but I do think, for the good of the men, and for the good of the railroad and particularly for the good of the public, that it would be a mighty good substitution and that if it is not satisfactory to have it in that particular division of the state government the Public Service Commission be eliminated, and that a man be placed there as a representative of the men, one as a representative of the railroads and a man as a representative of the public. I would like to ask the Senator whether he does not agree with me that after all the public is the one that pays the freight.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I scarcely know how to answer the Senator from Allegheny, I want to be perfectly deferential to him, but he has complicated his interrogatories to such an extent that I will do the best I can.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am sorry that I have been so complex, and I will restate the question, if necessary.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, inquired whether I did not know that the Public Service Commission was tremenduously overcrowded with work. I do not have such knowledge, as I have discovered that all of the complaints from the locality in which I live are speedily disposed of. Secondly, it is true that he discussed, in a very brief manner, the wisdom of returning this matter to the Board of Mediation. I confess my ignorance in not having known until he told me that such a Board existed and I am not so much displeased with my lack of knowledge because the Senator from Allegheny told me that he had not known that there was such a board until this afternoon, therefore I do not believe that a board that is so little known that neither the distinguished Senator from Allegheny nor myself ever heard of it would be a proper board to send questions of this kind to. That, I think, answers as far as I am able to answer the questions of the Senator from Allegheny.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it is true that I knew nothing about this board until this afternoon when it was called to my attention by the Governor of Pennsylvania, who seemed to be very much pleased in stating that this particular board had accomplished wonderful results in the face of a strike less than a year ago on the Pennsylvania Railroad. My own thought when I came here was that it would be a Board composed of one representative of the men, one representative from the railroad companies and one representative from the public, and I again asked the Senator, as I did in my question, whether or not the public does not pay the freight, and should not be represented, not in the Public Service Commission, but by a direct representative of the public.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I am of the opinion that the public pays the freight and I think the public is paying good salaries to the Public Service Commission for the functions that the Public Service Commission is now performing, and I believe that the Public Service Commission is the best qualified body of men, by reason of their experience with questions of this kind, to determine fairly all propositions relating to public service corporations.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I thank the Senator from Chester for his courtesy. So far as my vote goes, in explanation of my vote in the negative of this bill stands as it is in referring it to the Public Service Commission, I can say that if it were placed in a different position so that it could be referred to any other committee I would be glad to support it, because I realize, as the Senator from Chester does, that the railroads need and must have help. I also realize that there are some vicious points in that bill of 1911. The railroad men realized it, but we must all realize one thing, that the act of assembly of 1911 was written into the statute books by virtue of the abuse of the men by the railroad companies, which they do now admit, and their claim now is that they have been completely chastised and are willing to be good. I do not see how these men can get what is coming to them under the Public Service Commission and therefore I cannot support the bill.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I want to state my reasons for my vote on this bill. I believe the Public Service Commission is perfectly capable of handling this proposition if it came before them, but I am not in favor of changing the situation as it now is until the Public Service Commission does act. It seems to me only fair to these men that the statu quo should continue until the Public Service Commission hears both sides and determines whether or not there is some injury to the public or to the company or to the men in connection with the present law. It is for that reason that I will vote "No" on this bill.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Franklin, certinly the Public Service Commission will make their own rules and regulations relative to the disposition of any cases that may come to them from those sources and I believe that men of the standing and integrity of the Public Service Commission of the State of Pennsylvania can be fully and thoroughly trusted to make rules governing this situation that will be absolutely fair to employer and employe alike.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, the Senator does not answer my objection to the present bill. I did not make any reference to the Public Service Commission not being a Commission of integrity and not being able to handle these propositions. My objection is that when this bill passes it will throw out of work a large number of employes without a hearing of any kind. There must have been some merit in this bill when passed. I did not vote for it, I was not here when it was passed, but there must have been some merit to it. Railroads have been operating for a number of years and certainly it will not interfere if they continue to operate for a few months, and the railroad companies can certainly bring the matter before the Public Service Commission much more rapidly than can the men.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman who just spoke, I canvassed this Senate and voted for this full crew bill when it was placed on the statute books way back in 1911, and I immediately saw it was a mistake for the employer to be made to employ men not needed. Every time it came up for repeal since that time I canvassed this Senate in an effort to repeal it, because I do not think it is for those who are employed to tell their employer whom or how many men they shall employ. Certainly it is of more interest to the different railroads of this great state to man their trains sufficiently to prevent accidents than to any other set of men. I, therefore, shall again vote for this repealer.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER RECOMMITTAL OF HOUSE BILL NO. 215.

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the motion by which Senate Bill No. 463, (House Bill No. 215), entitled:

An Act for the better protection of fish requiring citizens of the United States residing in this Commonwealth to procure a license from the county treasurer to fish or angle in the waters of this Commonwealth or in the waters bounding or adjacent thereto and regulating the issuance of such license providing penalties for the violation of this act and the manner of proceeding to enforce compliance therewith and providing for the disposition of the penalties recovered and license fees received was committed to the Committee on Game and Fisheries.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I hope this motion will not prevail. When this bill was before the Committee on Game and Fisheries, the consideration of it was postponed, and it was then agreed that it should not be put out of committee without notice to the members of the committee, and that notice has not been given. The bill, if it is put out at all, should be amended, and I therefore hope that it will be allowed to be considered by the Committee on Game and Fisheries, where it now is.

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, I have investigated the records of the Committee on Game and Fisheries and find no such data contained in the records of that committee.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have stated the fact that that is what took place, and if it necessary I will interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Game and Fisheries to substantiate what I have said. I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Game and Fisheries.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Murdoch, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MURDOCH. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask if it is not a fact that when this bill was before the Committee on Game and Fisheries the consideration of it was postponed by a large majority vote of that committee?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I object to the Senator from Bucks asking questions and answering them himself.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I have asked if that is not a fact.

Mr. MURDOCH. Mr. President, does the Senator say by a large majority?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, by a vote of seven to four, to be exact. Is that correct?

Mr. MURDOCH. Mr. President, absolutely. Afterwards it was asked that the bill be reported out because it was a department bill, and, of course, it was agreed to let the bill come out.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I want to ask the Senator from Allegheny whether it is not a fact that he agreed not to report the bill out without notice to the other members of the committee to be considered at a meeting of the committee.

Mr. MURDOCH. Mr. President, it is not a fact. It was agreed to let it come out.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator whether he asked me about the bill. Did I not refuse to sanction its coming out?

Mr. MURDOCH. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator, I will say that he did.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask the Senator why he did not call a regular meeting of the committee in order that the bill might be properly considered. Is it not customary to have a regular meeting when any member objects to a bill being reported out.

Mr. MURDOCH. Mr. President, I cannot say whether it is customary or not.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would say that it is customary. Since I have been in the Senate I have not known a bill to be reported out of committee without a meeting of the committee where any member of that committee objected to it. I object to this bill coming out in this manner and I think that I am entitled to as much courtesy as any member of this Senate, and I think, therefore, I ought to be extended the courtesy of having the bill regularly considered in committee.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Gray.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Gray, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Gray, stated that he had examined the records of this committee and that the records did not show what Senator Buckman had stated. I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Gray, whether the records of the committee show that any action was taken to report the bill out of committee.

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, I did not see such a record.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, this is not an unusual proceeding. It is the habit of this Senate, whether in committee or out of committee, if they can get a majority of the members to agree to report it out, then the bill comes out. That has been the practice of the Senate since I have been around here, for the last fifteen years.

Mr. DONOHUE. Mr. President, I want to say that I am also a member of that committee. It was approached by the chairman of the committee and I did not consent to let this bill come out, and it was reported out without my consent, the same as my colleague, Mr. Buckman.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I want to say that, while I do not question the word of the Senator from Allegheny, I doubt very much if a majority of this committee would sanction its being reported in its present form, and as long as we are to have a system of considering bills by a committee, I think, sir, that the committee should be allowed to act upon this, and it should not be reported out by a chairman without the consent of the majority of that committee publicly expressed, otherwise we might have a secret ballot on matters of this kind, which we surely do not want and I hope this motion to reconsider will not prevail.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, it seems to me that we have a very full meeting of the Senate here tonight, and no harm could be done by recessing for ten minutes to give the chairman an opportunity to go into the back room and consider this bill so that courtesy may be shown to every member of the committee. I move that the Senate go into recess for ten minutes.

The PRESIDENT. There is a motion before the Senate which takes precedence over the motion to recess.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move, as a substitute for the motion to reconsider, that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 60, as follows:

The first section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twenty-one) entitled "An act to provide for State registration of nurses to establish a State Board of Examiners in connection therewith and to provide penalties for the violation of certain provisions regarding such registration" which as amended by the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and forty-five) entitled "An act to amend sections one two three nine ten and eleven and to amend also sections four five and seven as amended of an act approved the first day of Man one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twenty-one) entitled 'An act to provide for State registration of nurses to establish a State Board of Examiners in connection therewith and to provide penalties for the violation of certain provisions regarding such registration' by providing for a change in membership of said board for an increase in salary of the secretary and educational director and for the registration of persons properly qualified as licensed attendants for the care of the sick" reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That within sixty days after the passage of this act the Governor shall apoint a State Board of Examiners for Registration of Nurses composed of five members three of whom shall be registered nurses graduated from training schools connected with hospitals where practical and theoretical instruction is given in general surgical and medical nursing and who shall have been engaged in nursing in the State of Pennsylvania at least five years since graduation The Governor shall also name two physicians as members of said board They shall be connected in an official capacity with public hospitals where nurses' training schools are maintained and shall have practiced their profession in the State of Pennsylvania for at least five years immediately preceding the time of their appointment" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That within sixty days after the passage of this act the Governor shall appoint a State Board of Examiners for Registration of Nurses composed of five members two of whom shall be registered nurses graduated from training schools connected with hospitals where practical and theoretical instruction is given in general surgical and medical nursing and who shall have been engaged in nursing in the State of Pennsylvania at least five years since graduation The Governor shall also name three physicians as members of said board They shall be connected in an official capacity with public hospitals where nurses' training schools are maintained and shall have practiced their profession in the State of Pennsylvania for at least five years immediately preceding the time of their appointment

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move to amend the bill by adding at the end thereof the following:

"Section 2. That section seven of said act which as amended by section six of the act approved the twentieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, (P. L. 545), reads as follows:

"Section 7. On and after August first, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, no application for registration as a registered nurse shall be considered unless accompanied by a fee of ten dollars. Every applicant, to be eligible for examination, must furnish evidence, satisfactory to the board, that he or she is twenty-one years of age or over, is of good moral character, and has graduated from a training school for nurses which gives at least a two years course of instruction, or has received instruction in different training schools or hospitals for periods of time amounting to at least a two year course, as aforesaid, and then graduated, and that such applicant, during said period of at least two years, has received practical and theoretical training in surgical and medical nursing: Provided, That a graduate nurse registered in any State of the United States, where the requirements for registration, in the judgment of the registration board for nurses of this State, are at least equal to the requirements of law for such nurses in Pennsylvania, may, at the discretion of the board, be registered, without examination, upon application in writing on forms provided by the board, and upon the payment of a fee of ten dollars: And provided further, That it shall be the duty of the registration board to prepare and make a report for public distribution, at intervals regulated by the by-laws of the said board, of all training schools or combinations of training schools that are approved by the board as possessing the necessary requirements for giving a pupil-nurse full and adequate course of instruction: And provided further, That a State educational director of training schools, for nurses, shall be appointed, from among its members, by the State Board of Examiners for the Registration of Nurses of the State of Pennsylvania. This appointee shall have all the powers of a member of the board, while acting officially as a member of said board, but shall be under the direction of the board of examiners in all matters pertaining to her position as educational director, and her duty shall be to assist in maintaining the necessary standards in the living, working, and educational conditions of training schools for nurses. The salary of the educational director shall be twenty-five hundred dollars per year, and her railroad mileage and actual expenses incurred while engaged in official business, to be paid from the additional registration fee provided for in this act," is hereby further amended to read as follows:

"Section 7. On and after August first, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, no application for registration as a registered nurse shall be considered unless accompanied by a fee of ten dollars. Every applicant, to be eligible for examination, must furnish evidence, satisfactory to the board, that he or she is twenty-one years of age or over, is of good moral character, and has graduated from a training school for nurses which gives at least two years' course of instruction, or has received instruction in different training schools or hospitals for periods of time amounting to at least a two years' course, as aforesaid, and then graduated, and that such applicant, during said period of at least two years, has received practical and theoretical training in surgical and medical nursing: Provided, That a graduate nurse registered in any State of the United States where the requirements for registration, in the judgment of the registration board for nurses of this State, are at least equal to the requirements of law for such nurses in Pennsylvania, may, at the discretion of the board, be registered, without examination, upon application in writing on forms provided by the board, and upon the payment of a fee of ten dollars: And provided further, That it shall be the duty of the registration board to prepare and make a report for public distribution, at intervals regulated by the by-laws of the said board, of all training schools or combinations of training schools that are approved by the board as possessing the necessary requirements for giving a pupil-nurse a full and adequate course of instruction. All training schools or combinations of training schools shall be advised of the status of such school not later than the first day of June, of each year. All communications relative to the same as well as other communications from the board shall be addressed to the president of the hospital or school or corresponding officer. Communications with regard to the status of schools, made not later than June first of each year, shall set forth the curriculum which the board requires to be taught in such training schools for the year next following: And provided further, That a State educational director of training schools for nurses shall be appointed, from among its members, by the State Board of Examiners for the Registration of Nurses of the State of Pennsylvania. This appointee shall have all the powers of a member of the board, while acting officially as a member of said board, but shall be under the direction of the board of examiners in all matters pertaining to her position as educational director, and her duties shall be to assist in maintaining the necessary standards in the living, working, and educational conditions of training schools for nurses. The salary of the educational director shall be twenty-five hundred dollars per year, and her railroad mileage and actual expenses incurred while engaged in official business, to be paid from the additional registration fee provided for in this act."

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, April 18, 1921.

The House met at 9 o'clock P. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

Hon. Charles G. Jordan, Representative from Lawrence county, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee that Thou hast brought us together at another time for the performance of the duties that are before us. We ask Thee that Thou wilt give unto us intelligence and conscience sufficient for the cares of the hour. We beseech Thee that Thou wilt give unto us the courage that we need for the carrying out of the work that has been assigned to us as members of this Legislature. May we know that we represent not the few, but that we represent all, and that our aim should be in our legislation, fairness for all and favors for none.

We beseech Thee that Thou wilt guide the Chief Leader of this State, that he may have wisdom—that he may have patience and ability to bring the best out of the multitude of interests and ideas that are presented to him.

Be with us and keep us ever in Thy fear, and may we look to Thee at all times for guidance, for light, for inspiration. We ask it in the name of our Lord and Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of Thursday, April 14, 1921.

RULE NO. 57 AMENDED

Mr. HESS offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted.

Resolved: That Rule No. 57, which reads as follows: "That after a bill has been ten days in the hands of a committee, after having been referred to it, a vote of sixty members shall be sufficient to discharge the committee from a further consideration of the same," shall be amended to read as follows: That after a bill has been ten days in the hands of a committee after having been referred to it, a vote of the majority of all the members elect shall be required to discharge the committee from further consideration of the same.

A. B. HESS, Chairman
JOHN M. FLYNN
HUGH A. DAWSON
GEORGE W. WILLIAMS
DUNCAN SINCLAIR

RESOLUTION NO. 11.

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker I desire to call up at this time House Resolution No. 11, file folio No. 5989.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

Whereas Samuel S. Lewis Auditor General-Elect of the Commonwealth in a recent address before certain members of this House declared that funds of the Commonwealth had been used to pay expense accounts when in his opinion said expense accounts could not be lawfully paid and that after he becomes Auditor General he proposed to consult the Attorney General and if his opinion was sustained by the Attorney General he proposed to proceed to recover back into the treasury the money expended on these expense accounts and

Whereas In the same address he declared that persons were drawing pay without authority of law and that others were drawing more pay than the law authorized therefore

Be it resolved That a committee of five members of this House be appointed by the Speaker to investigate the charges made by the said Samuel S. Lewis which said committee shall hold public hearings and shall have power to summon witnesses and require their attendance and to require the production of books papers and records in the hands of State officers and employes that said committee shall report the facts to this House not later than Monday April twenty-fifth one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. CRUM. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call please.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, If I man be permitted for a few moments to speak on this resolution, I simply want to call the attention of the House to the legislative practice as we find it on pages 1087 and 1088 of Smull's Legislative Hand Book.

"In general, the parliamentary meaning of 'resolution' is the expression of the will of the House in regard to any subject before it, public or private; as, for example, that the use of the hall be granted for a particular purpose; that the House will adjourn at a particular time; that certain companies be required to furnish statements, et cetera. If information is desired from any of the departments, or from the Executive, the resolution assumes the form of a request, as for example: "Resolved, That the Auditor General be requested to furnish the House or Senate with a statement," et cetera.

"This, however, is indeed but an expression of will! the House, by the resolution, doing nothing more than declaring it to be their will that the Auditor General be requested to furnish the statement."

This resolution that we have before us to-night is simply Democratic propanganda. It is introduced by one of the few Democrats that we have with us and it is introduced for the sole purpose of making what they think is capital when there is no capital, because if you take the statements which they have in this resolution and examine into them, and take the resolution as it is drawn you find that the resolution is an animal which is supposed to go on legs and has no legs. There is a provision in this resolution that witnesses be subpoenaed, that books et cetera be produced before a committee and there is no provision for the paying of witness or for the paying of a sergeant-at-arms to subpoena witnesses as required by law. If it is necessary to have an examination such as the gentleman from Berks contemplates, this should take the form of a joint resolution and be coupled with an appropriation and then it will have the same purposes and powers as an act or joint resolution.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the Chair rule as to whether or not the Legislature has any right to call a clerk out of an office to make a statement before the Legislature. I understand Mr. Lewis is not the Auditor General, but is a clerk in the Auditor General's office. I therefore rise to the point or order Mr. Speaker, and desire to know if we have the authority to call any clerk or his assistants before us.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already ruled on that point that one branch of the Legislature cannot command the clerk or the head of a department, particularly when he is a constitutional officer and compel him to attend a legislative committee and testify. The point of order, if the gentleman raises that as a point of order, is sustained.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the statement of the Chair I rise to the point of order that this resolution cannot be considered by this body, and that it is out of order, not being a joint resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair sustains the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. GLASS.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO IRISH FREEDOM.

Mr. HEFFERNAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives,
April 18, 1921.

Whereas: The Irish people are suffering untold misery by the ruthless and barbarious treatment at the hands of the British soldiers, as evidenced in the report of the American Commission on atrocities in Ireland; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate Concur), That the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do respectfully address and petition Congress of the United States, in order to put an end to crimes committed in the name of government and to end the sufferings of thousands of women and children; to recognize without intervention the legitimate and lawful authority of the Republic of Ireland, as established in the votes of the people.

BILLS RECOMMITTED.

Mr. REIDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1471, file folio 4893, entitled:

An Act for the prevention of cruelty to animals by regulating the manner of slaughtering animals on page 51 of to-day's calendar, bills on second reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1242 (SENATE BILL NO. 667.)

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1242 (Senate Bill No. 667), file folio 1525, entitled:

An Act to amend section fourteen of an act approved the twenty-first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 1077), entitled "An act to provide for the administration of the Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred fifteen by creating the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation of the Department of Labor and Industry; providing for the establishment of the Workmen's Compensation Board to have charge of such bureau; authorizing the division of the Commonwealth into Workmen's compensation districts, and the appointment of workmen's compensation referees; defining the powers and duties of the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, the Workmen's Compensation Board, the Workmen's compensation referees and the factory inspectors of the Department of Labor and Industry, in enforcing the said act; and fixing the salaries of the members of the Workmen's Compensation Board, the workmen's compensation referees, and certain of their employes and assistants; and repealing certain acts."

was defeated on final passage, on Monday April 11, 1921, be reconsidered.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced the "nays" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, and 95 gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and 45 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill which was considered last Monday week, which provides for certain increases in the salaries of certain members of the Compensation Board. I have not had an opportunity this evening to refresh my memory by reading the act, but I think it covers four salaries, and those four salaries are the highest paid salaries in the establishment of the Workmens' Compensation Board. Now, I do not want to repeat the argument that I advanced last Monday week, because the time of the House is short. Suffice be it to say that if it is thrust upon us to levy new taxes upon the people of the Commonwealth, if we are to do that, then it is for us to see that the taxes received are not diverted into salary increases for the larger paid salaried employees of the State. If this were a case of those receiving below the minimum necessary for existence then another argument could be advanced, but because they are the highst, I think in some cases receiving six or seven thousand dollars a year at the present time, it seems to me that with the urgency on us of placing new taxes on the people, we ought not to use the money in this way. Therefore, as I did last Monday week, I shall vote against this bill.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Philadelphia who just preceded me were thoroughly logical in his argument, he would amend Bill 1016 as to some of the salaries provided in that bill. We all expect to support that bill, because we know the Department of Education is doing a wonderful work, a work which will redound to the glory of this Commonwealth. By a light token, the Compensation Board of this State has done a work which has brought it up among the leaders of the Compensation Boards throughout the entire United States, and if a traveler converses on that subject, he will be told that our Compensation Board is not equalled by any other in the United States. Reference has been made to the fact by the gentleman from Philadelphia that he is not acquainted with the provisions of this bill. He admits that in his opinion it covers four salaries. It does, and those four salaries are increased to the small amount of fifty-five hundred dollars per annum, total. Gentlemen of the House, there has been no change in any of those salaries since the day the Act went into effect in 1915. Other salaries have been increased during several successive sessions, but the salaries of the Board and the clerk mentioned in this bill have not been increased, and it seems to me when we start off with that as a premises, and also remembering that our Board handles millions of dollars per year in compensation claims and that it has handled in the five years which it has been a Board over three hundred and twenty thousand cases and in the whole five years not as many as two cases from each county have gone to the Supreme Court of our State, and remembering also that the Board handles in cases more than the Supreme and Superior Courts combined handle, it seems to me that we are getting down to the old adage of being penny wise and pound foolish. If there was any members of this House who had an employee who had to handle twenty-five million dollars a year and had to handle it thoughtfully and carefully and honestly, I believe that he would be perfectly willing to pay that man nine thousand dollars a year. There are men in this Commonwealth who receive higher salaries and do not begin to do the work which this Board does, and I think that if you will examine this matter carefully and fairly, you will be satisfied that the increases asked for in this bill are not out of proportion to the work done. I will therefore ask all of you to be kind enough to vote for this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, again I cannot agree with my friend, the gentleman from Philadelphia. Of course I recognize that the gentleman from Philadelphia comes from the same ward as the chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board. Notwithstanding that, I still cannot agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia. It seems to me that this House, from what transpired last week or before that time, should be able to read and see the handwriting on the wall. Every newspaper in this State, Democratic and Republican alike and every other newspaper, has been condemning these salary raisers; every working man to-day in the shops is condemning these salary raisers; every man, from the lowest to the highest in the land, excepting the men who are receiving them, are condemning the salary raisers. I cannot understand how it is, especially after the articles that have appeared in the papers, that the gentleman from Philadelphia could stand up and defend salary raisers, especially in this case, because we know that the one who is to benefit by it works but half the time and that the men who do the work, their names never appear or are never mentioned in these bills. They have one man in there, in the Workmen's Compensation Board, who does more work than the whole board put together, and that man is Lee Solomon. I say again as my friend from Philadelphia has said, Mr. Edmonds, that the men who do the actual work of that board are not the men who are mentioned in this salary raiser. I say again that the chairman of this Board, Mr. Mackey, is given a sufficient compensation for his services, and if he is not satisfied with his job, we can find many men, as many as you can count on your fingers and toes, that will be glad to take it and that will do the work just as well as he can. The country is full of them; men who are anxious to have this job. There are men who are earning their money by the sweat of their brow who do not know to-morrow where the next crust of bread will come from, who are never mentioned and I say it is an outrage, and there is protest from the people; there is objection from the people back home, and it is an insult, as you can see in he public press, to your intelligence to be asked to vote in favor of a bill of this kind.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. I am not going to vote against this bill. I did not give it the thought that I should have given it. I want to say to you men that I don't know any medium between employer and employe that has shown a better spirit or where there is a better disposition between employer and employe and where there has been more interst than has been shown by the Workmen's Compensation Board. I have never neard an employer or an employe object to the Workmen's Compensation Board. I have never heard either one class or the other object to this board. I have just asked the gentleman from Lackawanna if he is going to speak for it from the labor standpoint. When we are looking after good honest men in office we must pay them more money for their work. I say to you that a man who has been working for $7,500 and who has been raised in the last six years, a man who has given us complete satisfaction, who has served us well, I say he deserves $8,500 I would be willing to give him $10,000, because when we get a man who is honest, a man who is fair and who can satisfy both employer and employe, why should you not pay him liberally for it?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. The gentleman from Allegheny has placed me in a rather embarrassing position. He did come to me and ask me if I was going to speak on the bill and I said, "Yes." A week ago I took the floor and spoke against this bill, because I was just like some of the opponents of labor, was out for revenge against men who had opposed labor bill, and as honest confession is good for the soul, I want to say that at that time when I saw that labor was given no consideration on a measure that was before the House of Representatives, to give them fair compensation, I felt hurt and I was opposed practically to any other bill. I had not intended to say a word on this bill to-night, but the various representatives of labor organizations, especially the officials of miners' organizations and many other men have come to me and have practically laid the blame for the defeat of that bill to my door. I do not want to feel that I was instrumental in assisting to bring about the defeat of this measure at that time, and I will say this: That I have nothing against the Workmen's Compensation Board, and I concur in the remarks of the other speakers who have spoken in favor of it, to the effect that they have been a fair board I believe to both the employer and the employe and I can speak honestly for them in behalf of the miners, that they have been absolutely fair. We have had in the neighborhood of three thousand fatal accidents in Pennsylvania in the last year, and over 256,000 injury cases. I think, of course, that they have had considerable work to do, and as far as I am concerned I have no objections and I simply got up at this time in order to convince the friends of labor who followed me last Monday night that I do not have anything against this bill.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the roll be vertified.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The affirmation roll was verified as follows:

The SPEAKER. Are there any objections to the affirmative roll?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Columbia, Mr. Charles A. Shaffer, is recorded as voting "aye" but he was not in the room.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Columbia, Mr. Charles A. Shaffer, was in the room; he was right here sitting across from me.

Mr. Alexander. Mr. Speaker, he was not in his seat in the House and he has no right to vote.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, desire to challenge the vote of the gentleman from Columbia, Mr. Charles A. Shaffer? If so, the Chair will investigate the matter.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I was in the room when the vote was taken.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman vote when his name was called?

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, when my name was called I voted "aye."

OBJECTION WITHDRAWN.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I call for the special order of the day.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10 o'clock having arrived, the Chair will take up the special order on third and final passage for Monday, April 18, 1921, on House Bill No. 1016.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1016, as follows:

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred ten as amended and section one thousand one hundred three and section five hundred twenty-four as amended of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" and repealing section one thousand two hundred twelve thereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand two hundred ten of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (one thousand nine hundred and eleven Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" which as amended by an act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (one thousand nine hundred and nineteen Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and ten) entitled "An act to further amend section one thousand two hundred ten and to repeal sections one thousand two hundred eleven one thousand two hundred thirteen and two thousand eight hundred and five of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith' and making an appropriation" reads as follows

"Section 1210 One The minimum salaries of teachers principals supervisors directors of special subjects and their assistants in the public schools of the Commonwealth according to the standard certificates recognized by the laws of the Commonwealth shall be as follows (a) Provisional certificates sixty dollars ($60.00) per school month (b) professional certificates or State normal school certificates seventy dollars ($70.00) per school month (c) State normal school diplomas county permanent certificates State permanent certificates or college provisional certificates eighty dollars ($80.00) per school month

Section 2 Section one thousand one hundred three of said act which reads as follows

"Section 1103 No person shall be eligible for election or appointment as county district or assistant county or district superintendent unless he holds one of the following

A diploma from a college approved by the College and University Council of this Commonwealth

A diploma issued by a State Normal School of this Commonwealth

A teacher's state certificate issued by this Commonwealth

Provided That no person shall be elected or appointed a county district or assistant county or district superintendent who has not had successful experience as a teacher within three years or successful experience as a superintendent of schools Provided further That serving either as county district or assistant county or district superintendent in this Commonwealth at the time of his election or appointment shall be considered sufficient qualification for any of the aforesaid offices" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1103 No person shall be eligible for election or appointment as county district or assistant county or district superintendent unless he holds one of the following

A diploma from a college or other institution approved by the College and University Council of this Commonwealth a diploma issued by a State Normal School of this Commonwealth

Provided That no person shall be elected or appointed a county district or assistant county or district superintendent who has not had six years successful teaching experience not less than three of which shall have been in a supervisory or administrative capacity and Provided further That completing in a college or university a graduate course in education which is approved by the College and University Council shall be accepted in lieu of the three years of service in a supervisory or administrative capacity hereinbefore set forth and provided further That serving either as county district or assistant county or district superintendent in this Commonwealth at the time this act becomes effective shall be considered sufficient qualification for any of the aforesaid offices

Section 3. Section five hundred twenty-four of said act as amended by an act approved the twenty-first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 555), entitled "An act to amend sections five hundred and twenty-four and two thousand eight hundred and twenty-four of an act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred and nine), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," which reads as follows:

"Section 524. In all school districts of the first class, the school taxes for the following fiscal year shall be levied annually, by the board of school directors thereof, on or after the second Monday of November and before the first Monday of December following.

The total annual school tax levy made in any one year by any school district of the first class shall not be less than six mills, nor, except as provided in section two thousand eight hundred twenty-four, as amended of the act to which this is an amendment, shall the tax levy for the school year one thousand nine hundred twenty exceed seven mills, nor shall the tax levy for the school year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one or any school year thereafter exceed eight mills on the dollar of the total assessment of all property assessed and certified for taxation therein," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 524 In all school districts of the first class the school taxes for the following fiscal year shall be levied annually, by the board of school directors thereof, on or after the second Monday of November and before the first Monday of December following.

The board of school directors thereof shall annually levy a tax on each dollar of the total assessment of all property assessed and certified for taxation in said districts which said tax shall be ascertained, determined and fixed by adding together the following:

(a) An amount which, with all moneys received from the Commonwealth applicable thereto, shall be sufficient to pay the minimum salaries and increments of the teaching and supervisory staff thereof as fixed and provided by law and to pay the contributions of said district to the Teachers Retirement System.

(b) An amount sufficient to pay the interest on and retire the principal of the indebtedness of said district at maturity

(c) An amount sufficient to pay all other expenses and requirements of said school district; which amount shall be equivalent to not less than two and one-half nor more than three mills on the dollar of the total assessment of all property assessed and certified for taxation therein

Section 4. Section one thousand two hundred twelve and all other acts or sections inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the question pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether this bill carries an appropriation.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker it does not carry an appropriation. It establishes a system which, in order to work out satisfactorily, will eventually require an appropriation of $36,000,000 for the two years from the State.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would further like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, if he is aware of the fact that the Governor has promised to approve this bill for $30,000,000 if it reaches him.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I am not aware of that fact as the gentleman stated it. As I understand it, the statement has been made sometime ago that only $30,000,000 could be found from the revenues of the State to put the system into operation. I understand, however, that an earnest endeavor has been made in the matter and that there is real hope that the whole fund can be securd, but I could not state positively and I would say that it would be impossible for any one to answer that question positively until all the revenue bills, and all the appropriation bills have been acted upon.

Mr. PHILLIPS. What effect will it have on the fourth class districts if the appropriation does not exceed $30,000,000.

Mr. EDMONDS. As I understand it this bill itself establishes a basic system for the employment, qualifications and salaries of teachers of the State of Pennsylvania. Under that system in the fourth class districts the State gives fifty per cent. of the minimum basic salary amounting to a total, as furnished in a report to he members, of $16,300,000. As I understand it the only thing that could be done to put the system into operation in full force and effect is the hope that the small amount that cannot be appropriated now can be appropriated at the end of the two year period by the next Legislature.

Mr. PHILLIPS. In other words as I understand it, if this bill goes through, and the Legislature fails to appropriate a sufficient amount of money that the different districts will have to make up the amount of money necessary.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, it would not seem to me so necessarily. What would happen would be if the system would be put in operation at the beginning of the next summer that system would be carried out so far as the appropriation went. If before the end of the two year period an additional appropriation was required the Legislature could provide sufficient funds just as they have done under the Woodruff bill.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman further, does or does not this bill provide for an increase of salaries of the county superintendents from twenty-five hundred to four thousand dollars.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, it provides for a graduation of county superintendents depending upon the population of the county. In some counties it will doubtless be an increase, and in some counties, I am not certain that there are any, it will be decreased, but it provides for a graduation as given in the schedule of the bill.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House two years ago as I recall it, at half past two or three o'clock in the morning we were called upon to pass the Woodruff Bill. We had promised the teachers of the State of Pennsylvania to increase their salaries. We all wanted to go along and increase the salary of the techers, but we found, upon investigation on going back home, that we had put the burden upon the country districts to pay for the increase of salary. We have gone to Mr. Finnegan's Department and asked the question as to whether this bill will not put another additional burden on the country districts. Now we want to go along on this bill. We have promised the teachers that we will increase their salaries, and they deserve it, I think every teacher in the State of Pennsylvania is deserving of it, but gentlemen of the House, there is a limit when you come to tax a poor district out in the rural community, when you come and say to them that they must pay seventy-five or a hundred dollars for a teacher and put the burden upon them. It seems to me to be a hard proposition for us to go along. We have here about one hundred and twenty-five or one hundred and twenty-six country members in this House who are vitally interested in this question, and I believe that some of the people in this House should be told at least as to whether it will put an additional burden upon the fourth class districts. That is one thing tha I think would hold any of us from voting against this bill if we knew.

Mr. WHITMAN. Mr. Speaker, simply to make it perfectly plain to the gentleman from Clearfield, I would say that the Educational Committee was perfectly satisfied with the bill at the time it was before the Committee. It was made perfecly plain to the Educational Committee that the bill, as it is drawn, is just as binding upon the Commonwealth as it is upon the district, and that if the Commonwealth would fail in its obligation the burden upon the district would not increase thereby and the Legislature two years from now could make up whatsoever part of that obligation it might find lacking. That was made perfectly plain to the Committee on Education.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, state whether or not this bill proports to raise the salaries of anything except Normal School graduates?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, Oh, it does. It raises the salary of the common school teacher without the normal school qualification.

Mr. ALEXANDER. What is the exception then as to the different certificates.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, there is a difference in salary for the three grades of certificates that are proposed. The bill also established a system whereby six years from now, in 1927, all teachers are to have the permanent certificate. It provides a method whereby those who have it now, or have it not now may be given a chance to get it by attending the summer schools and university courses which will be established.

It looks forward therefore to the day when everyone of the forty-five thousand teachers of Pennsylvania will have a permanent certificate, and there is the blessing of the bill. It is a salary raiser, but it is more than that, it is a raiser of standards. At the present time one teacher out of three in Pennsylvania has a permanent certificate and what this bill provides is a method whereby those who have not the proper qualifications may get the proper qualifications, and it offers an inducement for them to do it in fixing a salary which will be an inducement to those people to prepare themselves properly to do fine work. That is the merit of the plan. This is a complete system for raising the standard of education throughout the State.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state what the three certificates are provided in this bill?

Mr. EDMONDS. They are A. B. and C., seventy-five, eighty-five and one hundred dollars per month in fourth class districts.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The gentleman misunderstands my question. I asked what were the three certificates?

Mr. EDMONDS. Do you mean the difference in qualifications?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes.

Mr. EDMONDS. The lowest grade is the high school, the next grade is the normal school and the next grade is the college certificate.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman how he would justify the minimum salary of thirty-five hundred dollars for a superintendent of schools in the third class district, whereas the county superintendent is only given three thousand dollars?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I am not able to answer that question directly, but I realize the fact that in the adjustments there may be some inequalities which would seem to us hard to explain. I believe I can say this, that this is a complete plan, and whenever that has been attempted, it so happens that one group is pulled down more than another group. My own hope is that the time may come, after this principle has once been accepted, whereby the State will pay its proportion of the salaries, that we may correst these inequalities in every case. It cannot be done at this session, but it can be done at the next session.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to further interrogate the gentleman, and ask him to explain to the members of the House how a teacher may qualify to teach in the schools of Pennsylvania under the provisions of this act—what are the requirements?

Mr. EDMONDS. In the first place, the teachers at present continue to teach on the certificate which he or she may have. In the second place, the teacher may qualify by taking the summer courses or the college coures or the State College courses, and will get additional points, so that in time when the teacher has taken sufficient of these courses, they will be put into the same grade as those who have had a normal course or the equivalent in training, or a college course or the equivalent in training. When they have advanced to that stage, they will be advanced to the salaries of that stage, thereby making an inducement to the teacher to continue studying to improve himself in the practice of his profession.

Mr. FLYNN. Who issues these certificates?

Mr. EDMONDS. The State Superintendent.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, in my long course of service in this body, I have never opposed a bill that has meant the uplift of our public school system. I have never opposed a measure that was brought before this Legislature that was meant to better conditions in our public school system, and I want to submit to you, sir, that there has never been a minimum salary act passed by this Legislature which has affected a single district in my county. There is not a minimum salary applying in this bill that is not now in effect in every school district in Elk county. So I am not speaking on this bill from the narrow sense that it is going to cost our districts more money. I feel that we have kept abreast of the times in the advancement of our school system in the district from which I come, but I do submit that I cannot conscientiously vote for this bill for the important reason that it so strongly centralizes the power and authority in the hands of one individual, that I believe that the passage of this bill will revolutionize the entire school system of the State of Pennsylvania, inasmuch as it will bring the schools under the direct control—even to the hiring of the teachers—under the direct control of one man, so that our boards of public education, our local boards, with our county superintendent, will be impotent in crolling the school system in their respective districts. I wish to say further, Mr. Speaker, that there are, no doubt, many districts that perhaps are not so fortunate as the district I represent in being fully able to provide the funds for the necessary conduct of their school affairs on a high plane. I want to say to the members who come from such districts that they are going back home to face a situation where we have voted for increased taxes that they will find to be no doubt inadequate to take care of the additional expense that is provided in this bill, and that must be met in large part by their local school districts. I think from that angle alone, many of the members will regret the passage of this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, it is my intention at this time to vote for this bill. I am going to vote for it for the only reason that I have, and that is, at the present time we have no other bill that I can see to substitute for it. Two years ago, just as the gentleman from Clearfield has stated, we all went home from this House absolutely disgusted with the educational situation. We felt that everybody had been promised something, and the more we have read over that Act of Assembly of 1919, the more we are convinced that we received a camouflage. Now, I think it is no more than due at this time that the way these bills are presented to the Legislature should receive, to a certain extent, our condemnation. Six months before the Legislature convened, I might say from the very day since the last Legislature adjourned, I have been endeavoring to make a study of the situation in some of the other states. We have heard this old saying time and time again, that we are the twenty-first state in the Union in education. I do not know what rule they measure that by, but I challenge anybody that has used that measure to say that our high school graduates cannot take their places with any other high school graduates in any of the states of the Union. As I say, I do not know what measure they use to make us number twenty-one. Some time ago I understand that Dr. Finegan said we were the twenty-first state, and I suggested that we might find somebody in the State of Pennsylvania that perhaps would be able to raise the standard of the Pennsylvania schools higher than number twenty-one. Six months before the session of the Legislature convened, I wrote to Dr. Finegan and asked him if he would not send to the members of the Legislature or rather send to me at that time, information outlining the program which he might have to lay before the next session of the Legislature. He wrote me at that time that he had no program at that time, but later on would write me. Within a month of the convening of the Legislature I wrote again and asked him for the program, and he said again that he had no program, but hoped to have one in a very short time, when he would send it. I wrote and asked him then if, after two years of service, a man receiving twelve thousand dollars a year salary could not give to the Legislature a program outlining what his ideal was of the legislative program, how he expected the members of the Legislature in less than a month's survey of the program that he had put in their hands—practically a month ago—how he would expect us to digest that program under this situation. Why couldn't we have had this program some time ago?

Mr. Speaker, that is the situation. Why could we not have this program sometime ago so that we might have had time to study it? We did not get this—we did not get Dr. Finegan's program until we were right in the midst of our work, until we were asked to consider it, and I say, that is to be condemned. I think that a man like Dr. Finegan should have been able to give his program to the members of this Legislature a long time before the Legislature convened, in order that they might have an opportunity to get an idea of the program; so that they could study it and compare it with the educational systems of other states. I propose, at this time, to vote for this bill, but I condemn it for the same reason that the gentleman from Elk has condemned it, it is of importance that we should have had an opportunity to examine this program. It is a centralizing of power. The principals of school districts will tell you that, at the present time, they practically have no power at all. This is a centralizing of power which is to be condemned, especially in a public school system. It is likely to become a political power. I want to ask you, what is going to become of the school system of Pennsylvania if it is going to be dragged into the political arena of this State? We have always kept politics as much as possible out of the school board. I say that it is for that reason that I don't like this bill, but I will vote for it because of the other reason, as I have said before, that we have nothing better at the present time, and I feel that many of our teachers are not being properly paid and I am in favor of giving this bill a two years' trial. I hope that after a trial of two years this bill may be of some help later, perhaps, that will be of benefit to some other legislature.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say just a few words in reply to some criticism. I think that the gentleman from Elk misunderstands the situation.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if this bill does not provide that a teacher must have certain qualifications before he can acquire a certificate?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir, they must have an additional qualification. The State Superintendent of Public Education fixes that qualification. Who else would do it? Under any system where the state is paying a large percentage of the teacher's salary, how is there any other method, and there is no change now from that which has long grown up. In the second place, the question is raised about the money that is expended. We are spending $18,000,000 a year for education, which amounts to twenty-three dollars for each child. California is spending thirty dollars for each child in the elementary schools, and thirty dollars more for each child in the higher schools. In the State of New York they are appropriating $5,000,000 more in one year than we are asking as an appropriation in Pennsylvania for two years. We cannot advance a system without the expenditure of money. That brings me to the criticism of my friend from Delaware. True, it would be better if we had this program before, but who could tell how much money there would be given for education? The logical plan is that the Legislature will advance the interest of education throughout the Commonwealth. That is the object of this bill. We are trying to establish here a system which will make teaching a regular profession; a profession which men and women will enter and in which they will stay, and it is important that we get the best possible appropriation in order that we may have an improved system. In order to do that we must have a sufficient appropriation so that teachers will take up the work of teaching and look to the future. There is no plan laid that requires as much far-reaching vision and understanding and that is as important to the teachership of this State as this bill upon which the members of the House are asked to vote tonight.

Mr. LEE SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say a few words concerning this bill. The Committee on Education received this bill on March 15, 1921, a little more than a calendar month ago. The bill has been under consideration by the committee and has been discussed and the committee has revamped it during that time, and there has been no delay in getting it during where it is now. There seems to be an impression that this bill will place upon the fourth class or rural or country districts an additional burden, because of the increase of the teachers' salaries in those districts. If you will just figure that with me for one moment, I think you can decide for yourselves this question as satisfactorily as the rest of us have done. The bill fixes a minimum salary for the teachers of those districts based upon the certificates held by the teachers engaged therein, and it further provides that the State of Pennsylvania shall pay fifty per cent., or one-half, of the salary so fixed. The minimum salary ranges from seventy-five to one hundred dollars. Do your own figuring; take that minimum salary, cut it in two, and the district raises half of it. I submit, does not the district pay less of the teachers' salaries under this bill than it has been paying heretofore?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. GELDER. Do I understand that in third class districts it is compulsory that the district pay an increase of one hundred dollars additional to each teacher each year?

Mr. EDMONDS. It pays an additional sum for four years.

Mr. GELDER. If that is the case, I have in my hand a paper that shows that if a district has about 6,000, with about 1,400 pupils, under the provisions of this bill they will spend $2,820 more the first year than they have in the past, and in the second year, $5,420 more, and in the third year $8,000 more, and in the fourth year, $10,600 more, and it will practically put the school district into bankruptcy. It seems to me that if we are to insist that the school districts pay in increased compensation to the teachers each year, that the State should step in to pay at least sixty per cent. of that salary. In saying that I am simply trying to bring before the members of this House the fact that instead of bringing about the state of affairs that Mr. Edmonds says we want to bring about, of retaining our teachers over a long term of years, it will mean that the school directors will be compelled to tell the teachers at the end of each year that their services are no longer required so that they can take on new teachers, to whom they are not compelled to pay the additional salary, and they will then, too, perhaps, have to take teachers with lower certificates, and it will defeat the very object of the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I want to say that I am in favor of an increased wage for the school teachers, but I believe that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, when it tells us that we shall each year increase the salary one hundred dollars, should at the same time at least provide fifty dollars. It should, in other words, do one of two things; either this bill should make it optional with the school districts, so that those school districts that cannot afford to give the increase will not be compelled to give marching orders to teachers who have been faithful in past years, or this Commonwealth should pay some of that additional money that is to be paid the teachers. Otherwise it will work not only a hardship on the school boards, but it also will work a hardship on the school teachers.

I want to say, Mr. Speaker, in making these remarks, that I intend to vote for this bill because I believe that it will assist the fourth class districts, and there are more fourth class districts than third class districts, and I am simply calling attention to one place in the bill that I believe should be corrected.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I just wish to remark that it is amazing the number of gentlemen who are objecting to the bill but are going to support it. Now, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Education.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LEE SMITH. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. I would ask the gentleman what would happen in the third-class district, in the school where, perhaps, out of fifteen teachers employed, five of them would be teachers who would be poorly qualified and yet would receive the minimum salary provided for in this bill, what salary would the other ten teachers receive in that district.

Mr. LEE SMITH. I do not understand the gentleman's question correctly.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I am asking if we must pay our poor teachers the minimum of one thousand dollars, then how much must we pay our good teachers in order to retain their services?

Mr. LEE SMITH. It depends upon the certificate, but you are not expected to retain poor teachers.

Mr. FLYNN. Well, of course, I understand then that this bill is going to work a miracle inasmuch as there will be no other teachers than good teachers employed.

Mr. LEE SMITH. Eventually that is the hope.

Mr. FLYNN. I think, Mr. Speaker, that explains the situation very well.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is disposed, on a bill of this magnitude, to allow debate ab libitum.

Mr. SWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SWEITZER. What provision is made for the supervising principal in this bill?

Mr. EDMONDS. I am advised by the statistician of the department, who is fully familiar with the details that the bill does not touch the salaries of the supervising principals. They are left as they are at the present time.

Mr. SWEITZER. That would indicate that the teachers and superintendents are all taken care of and that the only class of people that are not taken care of are the supervising principals. They will receive the salary they are receiving now, and that will make it absolutely unfair.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I correct my answer to the gentleman by saying that the supervising principals will receive a minimum under the terms of the bill.

Mr. SWEITZER. They would receive one hundred and thirty dollars?

Mr. EDMONDS. Yes, sir.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker and gentleman of the House, a few moments ago I was handed a resolution passed by our Chamber of Commerce at Pittsburgh. It is a live wire Chamber of Commerce and Mr. N. L. Monroe, a member of our bar, a very fine gentleman is chairman of the committee. In the resolution adopted in favor of this bill he winds up by saying: "It also provides a new method of proportioning State funds, by which the largest portion goes to the rural districts, which generally are the most needy." I know Mr. Monroe well enough to know that when he certifies to that he means it and I do not believe that any country member here can object to it.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, as one of the representatives from a large county having fourth-class districts, I wish to say that I do not believe there is any serious objection from the main body of the fourth-class districts representatives, at least not so far as I have spoken to them. When the bill first came up I immediately sent a large number of copies over my district and got back a good many comments on it. With the amendment to it, I believe it is a very great improvement over anything we have got. I believe the intention is to honestly benefit the fourth-class districts. When you figure on the individual schools of the district, I cannot find that it is going to work any detriment to anyone. I believe it will give us better schools for our fourth-class districts, and I believe it will work out better in the end. I am sure we should be in favor of it.

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, two years ago I was sponsor for a school bill and in view of that fact, I think I ought to say a word or two on this measure. I have studied it very carefully, and as far as I can see the fourth-class district is better taken care of than in the old measure. That bill was passed, Mr. Speaker, in a form much modified and changed from the form in which it left the House. When it came back to us on the last night, we had nothing to do but accept it or reject the entire program. I have always felt very much dissatisfied with that measure. I feel sure that there are places in this bill that might be improved, but the Committee on Education worked hard and worked long, and it seems to me that the fourth-class district is going to fare better than we had really hoped in the beginning that they might. Now the State will pay fifty per cent. of the salaries to all teachers. The fourth-class district is never called upon in this measure to pay any increment. There is somewhat of an unfairness there in the fact that the fourth-class district teacher will not have the incentive of an increment before her, but the fourth-class district was not in position we felt to stand for the increment that that would place upon it. It is true that the fourth-class district will not get as much money as was hoped for in the beginning, because, while the State pays fifty per cent., it is also true that the salaries are lower, and consequently the amount that goes there is correspondingly less, but in the salaries the State goes further in these fourth-class districts than in any other. Apart from the objections raised along several lines, which I think are quite valid, it seems to me that this bill will be better for us than the bill we have been working under for the past two years.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows viz:

NAYS—3.

Flynn,	Haines,	Rhoads,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1395 (Senate Bill No. 93), file folio 3287, entitled:

An Act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws on page 54 of to-day's calendar, be called up out of order for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Goodnough, chairman of the Insurance Committee, presented this motion, and I seconded it. The reason why the motion is made at this time is this: This bill is the thought of the Insurance Department of the State. There have from time to time been various objections and criticisms made to the bill as introduced and amended. To-night, before this session started, the last public hearing was held. At that public hearing the commissioner and those who opposed certain of the provisions of this bill came to an agreement. The bill is a very long one, and will require the official printer to expend a great deal of time in reprinting it. The session is very short, and we want to save the code which, as I said before, is the best thought on the subject of insurance. For this reasson, I ask you gentlemen to unanimously support this motion.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I haven't any objection to the motion or to the consideration of the motion at this time, but there are other bills on third reading. I have two bills of my own on third reading, and I have the amendments here for them. I understand the bill and all that it means, but I understand that there is other legislation on the calendar which the members would like to call up out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state for the information of the gentleman from Allegheny that the bill is on second reading.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, under those conditions I will withdraw my objections, as I was under the impression that the bill was on third reading.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1395 (Senate Bill No. 93), entitled:

An Act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds Associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws.

Section 609 Companies to Which Act Applies That all stock casualty insurance companies heretofore or hereafter incorporated or formed by authority of any general or special law shall be subject to the provisions and requirements of this act except those companies incorporated under the provisions of the act approved April twenty-eighth one thousand nine hundred and three entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of corporations for the purpose of making insurance upon the health of individuals and against personal injury and disablement and death therein limiting the amount for which such corporations may issue policies and providing the manner in which certain existing corporations may become reincorporated under this act" and companies heretofore organized under the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four Pamphlet Laws seventy-three (P L 73) entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" and the several supplements thereto for the purpose of guaranteeing the fidelity of persons in positions of trust and to act as surety on official bonds which latter companies shall come under the provisions of this act only upon acceptance thereof as hereinbefore provided

(b) HEALTH AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Section 616 Copies of Policies to be Filed with Insurance Commissioner No policy of insurance against loss from sickness or loss or damage from bodily injury or death of the insured by accident shall be issued or delivered by any stock or mutual casualty company or any stock or mutual life insurance company issuing such policies to any person in this Commonwealth until a copy of the form thereof and of the classification of risks and the premium rates pertaining thereto have been filed with the Insurance Commissioner nor shall it be so issued or delivered until the expiration of thirty days after it has been so filed unless the Insurance Commissioner shall sooner give his written approval thereto If the Insurance Commissioner shall notify in writing the company corporation association or other insurer which has filed such form that it does not comply with the requirements of law specifying the reasons for his opinion it shall be unlawful thereafter for any such insurer to issue any policy in such form. The action of the Insurance Commissioner in this regard shall be subject to review by the court of common pleas of Dauphin County

Section 617 Conditions Subject to Which Policies are to be Issued No such policy shall be issued or delivered except subject to the following conditions (a) unless the entire money and other consideration therefor are expressed in the policy nor (b) unless the time at which the insurance thereunder takes effect and terminates is stated in a portion of the policy preceding its execution by the insurer nor (c) if the policy purports to insure more than one person nor (d) unless every printed portion thereof and of any endorsemtns or attached papers shall be plainly printed in type of which the face shall be not smaller than ten point nor (e) unless a brief description thereof be printed on its first page and on its filing back in type of which the face shall be not smaller than fourteen point nor (f) unless the exceptions of the policy be printed with the same prominence as the benefits to which they apply Provided however That any portion of such policy which purports by reason of the circumstances under which a loss is incurred to reduce any indemnity promised therein to an amount less than that provided for the same loss occurring under ordinary circumstances shall be printed in bold face type and with greater prominence than any other portion of the text of the policy.

Section 618 Standard Policy Provisions Every such policy so issued shall contain certain standard provisions which shall be in the words and in the order hereinafter set forth and be preceded in every policy by the caption "standard provisions" In each such standard provision wherever the word "insurer" is used there shall be substituted therefor the word "company" or "corporation" or "association" or "society" Such standard provisions shall be

(a) A standard provision relative to the contract which may be in either of the following two forms form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide for reduction of indemnity on account of change of occupation and form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide If form (B) is used and the policy provides indemnity against loss from sickness the words "or contracts sickness" may be inserted therein immediately after the words "in the event that the insured is injured"

"(A) 1 This policy includes the endorsements and attached papers if any and contains the entire contract of insurance No reduction shall be made in any indemnity herein provided by reason of change in the occupation of the insured or by reason of his doing any act or thing pertaining to any other occupation"

"(B) 1 This policy includes the endorsements and attached papers if any and contains the entire contract of insurance except as it may be modified by the insurer's classification of risks and premium rates in the event that the insured is injured after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in the policy or while he is doing any act or thing pertaining to any occupation so classified except ordinary duties about his residence or while engaged in recreation in which event the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in the policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate but within the limits so fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation

If the law of the State in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued requires that prior to its issue a statement of the premium rates and classification of risks pertaining to it shall be filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in such state then the premium rates and classification of risks mentioned in this policy shall mean only such as have been last filed by the insurer in accordance with such law but if such filing is not required by such law then they shall mean the insurer's premium rates and classification of risks last made effective by it in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable"

(b) A standard provision relative to changes in the contract which shall be in the following form

"2 No statement made by the applicant for insurance not included herein shall avoid the policy or be used in any legal proceeding hereunder No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions No change in this policy shall be valid unless approved by an executive officer of the insurer and such approval be endorsed hereon"

(c) A standard provision relative to reinstatement of policy after lapse which may be in either of the three following forms Form (A) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident Form (B) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness and form (C) to be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness

(i) A standard provision relative to the time within which payments other than those for loss of time on account of disability shall be made which provision may be in either of the following two forms and which may be omitted from any policy providing only indemnity for loss of time on account of disability The insurer shall insert in the blank space either the word "immediately" or appropriate language to designate such period of time not more than sixty days as it may desire Form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide indemnity for loss of time on account of disability and Form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide

"(A) 9 All indemnities provided in this policy will be paid ..... after receipt of due proof"

"(B) 9 All indemnities provided in this policy for loss other than that of time on account of disability will be paid ..... after receipt of due proof"

(j) A standard provision relative to periodical payments of indemnity for loss of time on account of disability which provision shall be in the following form and which may be omitted from any policy not providing for such indemnity The insurer shall insert in the first blank space of the form appropriate language to designate the proportion of accrued indemnity it may desire to pay which proportion may be all or any part not less than one-half and in the second blank space shall insert any period of time not exceeding sixty days

"10 Upon request of the insured and subject to due proof of loss ..... accrued indemnity for loss of time on account of disability will be paid at the expiration of each ..... during the continuance of the period for which the insurer is liable and any balance remaining unpaid at the termination of such period will be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof"

(k) A standard provision relative to indemnity payments which may be either of the two following forms Form (A) to be used in policies which designate a beneficiary and Form (B) to be used in policies which do not designate any beneficiary other than the insured

"(A) 11 Indemnity for loss of life of the insured is payable to the beneficiary if surviving the insured and otherwise to the estate of the insured All other indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured"

"(B) 11 All the indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured

(l) A standard provision providing for cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insured which shall be in the following form

"12 If the insured shall at any time change his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in the policy the insurer upon written request of the insured and surrender of the policy will cancel the same and will return to the insured the unearned premium"

(m) A standard provision relative to the right of the beneficiary under the policy which shall be in the following form and which may be omitted from any policy not designating a beneficiary

"13 Consent of the beneficiary shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy or to change of beneficiary or to any other changes in the policy"

(n) A standard provision limiting the time within which suit may be brought upon the policy as follows

"14 No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after proof of the loss has been filed in accordance with the requirements of this policy nor shall such action be brought at all unless brought within two years from the expiration of the time within which proof of loss is required by the policy"

(o) A standard provision relative to time limitations of the policy as follows

"15 If any time limitation of this policy with respect to giving notice of claim or furnishing proof of loss is less than that permitted by the law of the State in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued such limitation is hereby extended to agree with the minimum period permitted by such law"

Section 619 Optional Standard Policy Provisions No such policy shall be so issued or delivered which contains any provision (a) relative to cancellation at the instance of the insurer or (b) limiting the amount of indemnity to a sum less than the amount stated in the policy and for which the premium has been paid or (c) providing for the deduction of any premium from the amount paid in settlement of claim or (d) relative to other insurance by the same insurer or (e) relative to the age limits of the policy unless such provisions which are hereby designated as optional standard provisions shall be in the words and in the order in which they are hereinafter set forth but the insurer may at its option omit from the policy any such optional standard provision Such optional standard provisions if inserted in the policy shall immediately succeed the standard provisions named in the section immediately preceding of this act

(a) An optional standard provision relative to cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insurer as follows

"16 The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer together with cash or the insurer's check for the unearned portion of the premiums actually paid by the insured and such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior thereto"

(b) An optional standard provision relative to reduction of the amount of indemnity to a sum less than that stated in the policy as follows:

"17 If the insured shall carry with another company corporation association or society other insurance covering the same loss without giving written notice to the insurer then in that case the insurer shall be liable only for such portion of the indemnity promised as the said indemnity bears to the total amount of like indemnity in all policies covering such loss and for the return of such part of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro rata for the indemnity thus determined"

APPROPRIATION BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1283 (Senate Bill No. 154), as follows:

An Act relating to the preparation of a new Constitution of the Commonwealth by a convention and its adoption or rejection by the people and making an appropriation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That at the primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one the question "shall a constitutional convention be held in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two as provided in the act of assembly approved the———day of———one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one" (inserting the date of the approval of this act) followed by the words "yes" and "no" in appropriate voting blocks shall be printed upon the official ballots to be used at such primary election as provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth for the submission of questions to the vote of the people Below the said question shall appear the words "voters favoring the holding of a constitutional convention in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two will mark a cross (X) to the right of the word 'yes' Those opposing the holding of a convention will mark a cross (X) to the right of the word 'no'"

Section 2 If a majority of the electors who shall vote upon the aforesaid question shall favor the holding of a constitutional convention the said convention shall convene in the Senate Chamber in the State Capitol in the city of Harrisburg on the second Tuesday of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two at twelve o'clock noon and shall conclude its sessions not later than August first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two

Section 3 The said constitutional convention if authorized by the electors as hereinbefore provided shall consist of three delegates from each congressional district within the Commonwealth and twenty-five delegates from the Commonwealth at large chosen as hereinafter provided

Section 4 Nominations for district delegates to the said constitutional convention shall be made at the primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one Names of candidates for nomination shall be printed upon the official ballot of each political party upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least forty days before the date of the said primary Such nomination petitions shall be in the form required by law for the nomination of candidates for the office of representative in Congress and shall be signed by at least two hundred qualified electors of the congressional districts within which the respective candidates shall reside as provided by law

The Secretary of the Commonwealth in forwarding to the county commissioners of each county a list of the candidates for the various offices to be nominated at the said primary election shall include the names of the candidates of each party for delegates to the constitutional convention

Each elector voting at such primary shall be entitled to vote for two candidates for district delegate to such constitutional convention

The county commissioners or the proper return judges shall make the proper certification of returns of votes cast for the candidates for nomination for the office of delegate to the constitutional convention to the Secretary of the Commonwealth

The two candidates of any political party receiving the largest number of votes at the said primary election shall be the nominees of such party for delegates from the congressional district within which such candidates reside

Nominations for district delegates made as herein provided shall be of full force and effect in the event that the electors at the said primary election shall authorize the holding of a constitutional convention in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two but in the event that the electors at such primary election shall not authorize the holding of a constitutional convention in said year the nominations made at said primary election shall be void and of no force or effect whatsoever

Section 5 Nominations for district delegates to said constitutional convention if authorized as hereinbefore provided may also be made by nomination papers in the manner provided by law for the nomination by nomination papers of candidates for representative in Congress

Section 6 If the electors at the said primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one shall authorize the holding of a constitutional convention is hereinbefore provided district delegates to such convention shall be elected at the municipal election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one

The ballots for use at such municipal election in the several congressional districts of the Commonwealth shall contain the names of the candidates for district delegates from such congressional districts nominated as hereinbefore provided and each elector voting at such municipal election shall be entitled to vote for two district delegates to such Constitutional Convention and the three candidates for district delegates in each congressional district receiving the highest vote shall be the district delegates from such district to the Constitutional Convention

Section 7 If a Constitutional Convention be authorized as hereinbefore provided the Governor shall appoint twenty-five delegates to said Convention from the Commonwealth at large Returns of the said election shall be made by the proper prothonotary or return judges to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall certify the result to the Governor who shall thereupon declare by proclamation the names of the persons duly elected and of those appointed by him Any vacancies occurring in the office of district delegate or delegate at large to said Constitutional Convention may be filled by vote of the remaining delegates.

Section 8 If a Constitutional Convention be authorized as hereinbefore provided it shall be called to order by the Governor and it shall immediately organize by electing a president secretary and such other officers as shall be necessary for the transaction of its business It shall have the power to adopt rules of procedure finally to determine the election and qualification of delegates and generally to adjourn to such time or times and such place or places as it shall determine

Section 9 It shall be the duty of such Constitutional Convention to consider the Constitution recommended by "The Commission on Constitutional Amendment and Revision" appointed

under the act approved the fourth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred nineteen

The Convention may submit a proposed Constitution as a whole or may submit separately such parts thereof as it may determine

The Convention shall also frame the questions necessary to elicit from the electors their approval or rejection of the said proposed Constitution and of any parts to be separately submitted in brief form and so that they can be answered by either the word "yes" or the word "no"

Section 10 Such Constitution as may be proposed by the Constitutional Convention shall be engrossed and signed by the president and secretary of the Convention shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than the first Monday of September of the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall enter the proposed Constitution upon the records of his office He shall publish the said proposed Constitution in two newspapers in every county of the State wherein said number of newspapers may be published once during the week immediately preceding the election and shall publish the same in convenient form and send a copy thereof to every elector in the Commonwealth making application therefor He shall also cause to be sent through the County Commissioners to each polling place in the Commonwealth in sufficient time to be there available to persons voting thereat at least ten copies of the Constitution so published for the use of voters desiring to consult the same while in the polling place

The questions framed by the Convention as aforesaid shall be by said Convention certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall in turn at least thirty days before the general election of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two certify the same to the County Commissioners of the several counties The questions so certified shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at such general election followed by the words "yes" and "no" and appropriate voting blocks as provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth for the submission of questions to the vote of the people

Section 11 The Constitution and any parts thereof to be submitted separately proposed by such Constitutional Convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the Commonwealth for their approval or rejection at the General Election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two A majority of the electors voting upon the adoption or rejection of the proposed Constitution shall be necessary for its adoption Such proposed Constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately if approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon shall become effective unless the proposed Constitution or the schedule thereto shall otherwise provide upon the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three Returns of the vote cast for and against the proposed Constitution and for and against any parts thereof submitted separately as hereinbefore provided shall be canvassed as provided by law and shall be certified by the prothonotary of every county to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall compute the same and certify the result to the Governor If from said certificate it shall appear that the proposed Constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately shall have been adopted by the people the Governor shall immediately make proclamation thereof

Section 12 The members of the Constitutional Convention if held as provided by this act shall each receive a salary of one thousand dollars ($1,000) payable in five equal installments an allowance for traveling expenses of twenty cents per mile circular for one session and an allowance for postage stationery and contingencies of one hundred dollars ($100)

The Convention shall have the power to employ and to fix the compensation of such secretary officers assistants clerks and other employes as shall be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act

Section 13 It is the intent of this act that the procedure provided for the nomination and election of district delegates shall be the same as that provided by law for the nomination and election of representatives in Congress and matters relating to the nomination and election of delegates not expressly covered by this act shall be governed by the laws relating to the nomination and election of such representatives

Section 14 The sum of two hundred eighty-five thousand dollars ($285,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated for the payment of the salaries and expenses connected with the said Constitutional Convention the necessary printing and binding which shall be done by the Department of Public Printing and Binding on the order of the Chairman and the advertising connected with the submission thereof Payment of all money shall be on order of the President of the Convention and on warrant of the Auditor General

On the question recurring.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 977.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 977, file folio 4225, entitled:

An Act providing in certain cases for the election of tax collectors in boroughs, and in certain cases for the appointment of secretaries of boroughs as tax collectors; and providing the manner in which the method by which such appointment is to be made and the compensation of the appointed tax collector fixed; and authorizing such tax collectors to collect county, borough, school and poor taxes.

was defeated on final passage on April 12, 1921, be reconsidered.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, the bill which you are asked to consider is a bill which the House passed upon last Tuesday evening, early in the evening, when only about a quorum were present, and it failed by reason of the fact that it did not receive a constitutional majority. The bill is one of the bills of the Pennsylvania Association of Boroughs and it probably is one of the most important of its bills introduced at this session. It is a bill which was not explained at the time it was acted upon, and I have been told by a number of the members of the House that if it had been explained at the time, their votes would have been different on this bill. This bill takes no power away from the boroughs that they do not possess at the present time, but it does add an additional optional power. I see a number of you looking for the bill; the file folio is 4225. The act relates only to boroughs. The act provides that in addition to the power which the boroughs now possess of electing tax collectors, they may appoint the secretary of the borough as tax collector, and fix his salary. That power is entirely optional; if this bill were to become a law, it would promote convenience, economy and efficiency with a certain class of boroughs. With those boroughs that have a borough hall and a borough secretary or clerk regularly on duty it would promote convenience because it would give the taxpayers the opportunity of paying their taxes at the borough hall, which is usually centrally located. It would promote economy because those boroughs that have a secretary regularly on duty and pay him a salary, by paying a small amount more they could collect the taxes of the borough and in many cases that would be a saving of several thousand dollars in the aggregate within the Commonwealth. It would promote efficiency because the borough councils are in a position to press the collection of taxes from its own clerk and secretary in a manner different than from another tax collector, and besides the police force of the borough can be used as against delinquents. It would also be an advantage to those boroughs that do not have a secretary or tax collector regularly on duty, because if those two offices were united in one, a salary could be fixed which would justify these officers being regularly on duty. As I mentioned before, the act leaves the boroughs with the same power that they possess at the present time. They may elect their tax collector if they desire, but to that class of boroughs to which this would be an advantage, they may appoint the secretary, but before doing so, council must pass an ordinance and the question must be submitted to the people. I therefore submit that the question being optional, it is a fair bill, and it would work convenience, economy and efficiency on the part of the boroughs of our Commonwealth.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

APPROPRIATION BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1283 (Senate Bill No. 154), as follows:

An Act relating to the preparation of a new Constitution of the Commonwealth by a convention and its adoption or rejection by the people and making an appropriation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That at the primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one the question "shall a constitutional convention be held in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two as provided in the act of assembly approved the———day of———one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one" (inserting the date of the approval of this act) followed by the words "yes" and "no" in appropriate voting blocks shall be printed upon the official ballots to be used at such primary election as provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth for the submission of questions to the vote of the people Below the said question shall appear the words "voters favoring the holding of a constitutional convention in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two will mark a cross (X) to the right of the word 'yes' Those opposing the holding of a convention will mark a cross (X) to the right of the word 'no' "

Section 2 If a majority of the electors who shall vote upon the aforesaid question shall favor the holding of a constitutional convention the said convention shall convene in the Senate Chamber in the State Capitol in the city of Harrisburg on the second Tuesday of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two at twelve o'clock noon and shall conclude its sessions not later than August first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two

Section 3 The said constitutional convention if authorized by the electors as hereinbefore provided shall consist of three delegates from each congressional district within the Commonwealth and twenty-five delegates from the Commonwealth at large chosen as hereinafter provided

Section 4 Nominations for district delegates to the said constitutional convention shall be made at the primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one Names of candidates for nomination shall be printed upon the official ballot of each political party upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least forty days before the date of the said primary Such nomination petitions shall be in the form required by law for the nomination of candidates for the office of representative in Congress and shall be signed by at least two hundred qualified electors of the congressional districts within which the respective candidates shall reside as provided by law

The Secretary of the Commonwealth in forwarding to the county commissioners of each county a list of the candidates for the various offices to be nominated at the said primary election shall include the names of the candidates of each party for delegates to the constitutional convention

Each elector voting at such primary shall be entitled to vote for two candidates for district delegate to such constitutional convention

The county commissioners or the proper return judges shall make the proper certification of returns of votes cast for the candidates for nomination for the office of delegate to the constitutional convention to the Secretary of the Commonwealth

The two candidates of any political party receiving the largest number of votes at the said primary election shall be the nominees of such party for delegates from the congressional district within which such candidates reside

Nominations for district delegates made as herein provided shall be of full force and effect in the event that the electors at the said primary election shall authorize the holding of a constitutional convention in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two but in the event that the electors at such primary election shall not authorize the holding of a constitutional convention in said year the nominations made at said primary election shall be void and of no force or effect whatsoever

Section 5 Nominations for district delegates to said constitutional convention if authorized as hereinbefore provided may also be made by nomination papers in the manner provided by law for the nomination by nomination papers of candidates for representative in Congress

Section 6 If the electors at the said primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one shall authorize the holding of a constitutional convention is hereinbefore provided district delegates to such convention shall be elected at the municipal election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one

The ballots for use at such municipal election in the several congressional districts of the Commonwealth shall contain the names of the candidates for district delegates from such congressional districts nominated as hereinbefore provided and each elector voting at such municipal election shall be entitled to vote for two district delegates to such Constitutional Convention and the three candidates for district delegates in each congressional district receiving the highest vote shall be the district delegates from such district to the Constitutional Convention

Section 7 If a Constitutional Convention be authorized as hereinbefore provided the Governor shall appoint twenty-five delegates to said Convention from the Commonwealth at large Returns of the said election shall be made by the proper prothonotary or return judges to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall certify the result to the Governor who shall thereupon declare by proclamation the names of the persons duly elected and of those appointed by him Any vacancies occurring in the office of district delegate or delegate at large to said Constitutional Convention may be filled by vote of the remaining delegates,

Section 8 If a Constitutional Convention be authorized as hereinbefore provided it shall be called to order by the Governor and it shall immediately organize by electing a president secretary and such other officers as shall be necessary for the transaction of its business It shall have the power to adopt rules of proceedure finally to determine the election and qualification of delegates and generally to adjourn to such time or times and such place or places as it shall determine

Section 9 It shall be the duty of such Constitutional Convention to consider the Constitution recommended by "The Commission on Constitutional Amendment and Revision" appointed

under the act approved the fourth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred nineteen

The Convention may submit a proposed Constitution as a whole or may submit separately such parts thereof as it may determine

The Convention shall also frame the questions necessary to elicit from the electors their approval or rejection of the said proposed Constitution and of any parts to be separately submitted in brief form and so that they can be answered by either the word "yes" or the word "no"

Section 10 Such Constitution as may be proposed by the Constitutional Convention shall be engrossed and signed by the president and secretary of the Convention shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than the first Monday of September of the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall enter the proposed Constitution upon the records of his office He shall publish the said proposed Constitution in two newspapers in every county of the State wherein said number of newspapers may be published once during the week immediately preceding the election and shall publish the same in convenient form and send a copy thereof to every elector in the Commonwealth making application therefor He shall also cause to be sent through the County Commissioners to each polling place in the Commonwealth in sufficient time to be there available to persons voting thereat at least ten copies of the Constitution so published for the use of voters desiring to consult the same while in the polling place

The questions framed by the Convention as aforesaid shall be by said Convention certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall in turn at least thirty days before the general election of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two certify the same to the County Commissioners of the several counties The questions so certified shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at such general election followed by the words "yes" and "no" and appropriate voting blocks as provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth for the submission of questions to the vote of the people

Section 11 The Constitution and any parts thereof to be submitted separately proposed by such Constitutional Convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the Commonwealth for their approval or rejection at the General Election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two A majority of the electors voting upon the adoption or rejection of the proposed Constitution shall be necessary for its adoption Such proposed Constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately if approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon shall become effective unless the proposed Constitution or the schedule thereto shall otherwise provide upon the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three Returns of the vote cast for and against the proposed Constitution and for and against any parts thereof submitted separately as hereinbefore provided shall be canvassed as provided by law and shall be certified by the prothonotary of every county to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall compute the same and certify the result to the Governor If from said certificate it shall appear that the proposed Constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately shall have been adopted by the people the Governor shall immediately make proclamation thereof

Section 12 The members of the Constitutional Convention if held as provided by this act shall each receive a salary of one thousand dollars ($1,000) payable in five equal installments an allowance for traveling expenses of twenty cents per mile circular for one session and an allowance for postage stationery and contingencies of one hundred dollars ($100)

The Convention shall have the power to employ and to fix the compensation of such secretary officers assistants clerks and other employes as shall be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act

Section 13 It is the intent of this act that the procedure provided for the nomination and election of district delegates shall be the same as that provided by law for the nomination and election of representatives in Congress and matters relating to the nomination and election of delegates not expressly covered by this act shall be governed by the laws relating to the nomination and election of such representatives

Section 14 The sum of two hundred eighty-five thousand dollars ($285,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated for the payment of the salaries and expenses connected with the said Constitutional Convention the necessary printing and binding which shall be done by the Department of Public Printing and Binding on the order of the Chairman and the advertising connected with the submission thereof Payment of all money shall be on order of the President of the Convention and on warrant of the Auditor General

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. FRANKLIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 14, page 8, by striking out the words in italics in line 24, 25 and 26 and inserting the same after the word "thereof" in line 27

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 977.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 977, file folio 4225, entitled:

An Act providing in certain cases for the election of tax collectors in boroughs, and in certain cases for the appointment of secretaries of boroughs as tax collectors; and providing the manner in which the method by which such appointment is to be made and the compensation of the appointed tax collector fixed; and authorizing such tax collectors to collect county, borough school and poor taxes.

was defeated on final passage on April 12, 1921, be reconsidered.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, the bill which you are asked to consider is a bill which the House passed upon last Tuesday evening, early in the evening, when only about a quorum were present, and it failed by reason of the fact that it did not receive a constitutional majority. The bill is one of the bills of the Pennsylvania Association of Boroughs and it probably is one of the most important of its bills introduced at this session. It is a bill which was not explained at the time it was acted upon, and I have been told by a number of the members of the House that if it had been explained at the time, their votes would have been different on this bill. This bill takes no power away from the boroughs that they do not possess at the present time, but it does add an additional optional power. I see a number of you looking for the bill; the file folio is 4225. The act relates only to boroughs. The act provides that in addition to the power which the boroughs now possess of electing tax collectors, they may appoint the secretary of the borough as tax collector, and fix his salary. That power is entirely optional; if this bill were to become a law, it would promote convenience, economy and efficiency with a certain class of boroughs. With those boroughs that have a borough hall and a borough secretary or clerk regularly on duty it would promote convenience because it would give the taxpayers the opportunity of paying their taxes at the borough hall, which is usually centrally located. It would promote economy because those boroughs that have a secretary regularly on duty and pay him a salary, by paying a small amount more they could collect the taxes of the borough and in many cases that would be a saving of several thousand dollars in the aggregate within the Commonwealth. It would promote efficiency because the borough councils are in a position to press the collection of taxes from its own clerk and secretary in a manner different than from another tax collector, and besides the police force of the borough can be used as against delinquents. It would also be an advantage to those boroughs that do not have a secretary or tax collector regularly on duty, because if those two offices were united in one, a salary could be fixed which would justify these officers being regularly on duty. As I mentioned before, the act leaves the boroughs with the same power that they possess at the present time. They may elect their tax collector if they desire, but to that class of boroughs to which this would be an advantage, they may appoint the secretary, but before doing so, council must pass an ordinance and the question must be submitted to the people. I therefore submit that the question being optional, it is a fair bill, and it would work convenience, economy and efficiency on the part of the boroughs of our Commonwealth.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Vol. 6. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 19, 1921. No. 48.

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 19, 1921.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock a. m.

Th PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The acting Chaplain, Rev. J. T. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, here in the great problems of life, where we come from the various activities of life to meet every issue that is brought before us as a law-abiding and law making body, we invoke Thy richest benediction to rest upon us. Help us to have the courage of our convictions that we may be able to answer first to ourselves, then to the Great Teacher, who has ever set before us the great examples of life, that we may be able to have our consciences void of the acts that are displeasing to our God. May the same characteristics and principles fill all our lives and thoughts as filled the life and thought of Daniel when it was endeavored to persuade him to turn away from the true worship of Jehovah to the worship of idols. We pray O God Thy richest benediction upon the great nation of which we are a part, upon him who is at the head of it to govern and lead it into the paths of successful determination. Bless the head of this great State. May he at all times and under all circumstances of life be persuaded to do that which is right, and we pray, O God, that we shall be found carrying into the activities of our life our deep conviction, regardless of what may be the consequence, but relying upon Thee for victory and success. We ask it in the name of the great Nazarene who travelled the pathway of life and successfully ended his ministry. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE THE COMMITTEE OF LAW AND ORDER FROM CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 269.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move that the Law and Order Committee of the Senate be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 269, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 772, (House Bill No. 269), entitled:

An Act to protect all persons in their equal right regardless of race color or creed in places of public accommodation entertainment or amusement and providing penalty for violation of the same known as the equal rights bill.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I do not know whether it is in order, but my impression is that it is not in order to talk on this motion, but I am going to ask the indulgence of the members of this Senate to allow me to say a word or two on a matter of great importance, and I am going to beg of you, gentlemen, not to interrupt me, I will ask that privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to inform the Senator that unless unanimous consent is given by the Senate, he will have to confine his remarks to the motion to discharge the committee. It does not raise the merits of the bill.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I understand that.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senate give unanimous consent. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I will not promise to take any advantage of the courtesy of this Senate. Gentlemen of the Senate, this is a big proposition. It is a real proposition and let us get at it in a manly fashion. Let us get at this proposition, not in the way as if we were trying to hide behind any ill effects or any harm that may come to us in our political activities. This bill is bigger than politics . It is a big proposition. It is a cry from the hearts of some of our citizens that they be given that which they think is right and I, as chairman of this committee, think that the committee ought to be discharged. It is an unusual thing for a chairman to ask and the statement that I am about to make I make with no ill feeling toward any member of this committee, but I contend the vote in this committee this morning was a tie vote, and when a vote is tie then I think the proper thing to do is for this body to vote on the question. You ask me why it is tie, and I will tell you why. I counted out along those lines. There were fourteen men present at the hearing, two of whom were Democrats. I find no fault with either one of them. They have a right to their political beliefs as they see fit, and both of those men, in my estimation, are men of high character and esteem, and mean to do the right thing, but they are under no political obligations to the colored people, and I do not count their vote as being a vote on this question. This is a Republican Senate. Of the fifty members, forty-seven are Republicans and three Democrats, so that I say this is a Republican Senate and the colored people being Republicans, one hundred per cent., that it is a question that should be decided in this Republican Senate, the Republican party, and that I do not believe that under those conditions their vote in the committee this morning means one thing or the other on this question and I feel that it was a tie vote.

This is a big proposition. This is a Republican State and being a Republican State, let the several members of the Senate decide this question, I say decide it in a manly fashion, each man assume his own burden, and assume his own responsibility. Those that vote against this bill may be right, they may be wrong, but let us go on record just how the State of Pennsylvania stands on this big proposition. My views are different from others. My thoughts are these: If this Republican Senate defeats this bill it places the Mason and Dixon line to the northern borden or Pennsylvania and the southern border of New York. We have brought that distinctive line from where it was and we go down among the Southern States, and no longer can we hold our heads up as being one of the great states north of the Mason and Dixon line. I do not know whether it is merely a coincidence but here this morning in this beautiful hall on each member's desk there is the glorious flag, the emancipator of all mankind all over the world, Can you Republicans look this in the face and say that we are fair and square to the Constitution that this stands for if we do not stand by its mandates, its dictates and all it stands for? Maybe we can, maybe I am wrong. I do not know, but within me there is the feeling that any man who honors that flag must honor that on which it is built, and that is the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of Pennsylvania, that gives equal rights to all mankind and nowhere in its lines do you find the words white, no where do you find the word individual, nowhere in its lines do you find anything but equal rights to all men in all lines of this great government of ours. Why I should be here pleading these men's cause I do not know. It is no battle of mine. It is not the battle of Senator Einstein, or Senator Aron. Members of the Senate, they are your Christian brothers. According to the religious laws of your God and your Jesus Christ, not mine, and why should I be fighting their battles? They are yours, they do not belong to me. I have been brought up in a different religious belief. I have been brought up by a different kind of people. I have been taught a different religion. I could talk for an hour on this subject and I am thankful to the forty-nine members of this Senate that they have allowed me to break the rule. It is a great privilege; it is a great honor and I have never in all my experience seen or heard of a man ever being given that privilege. I appreciate the consideration and I want to recite before I sit down that which you all know better than I do, and I want you to act on this bill, so that when night is here and you are going to your beds and do the last thing tonight, you Christian brothers of this colored race, that you are able to say this, and say it with a conscience that is clear. You all know it, and you know it better than I do; Our Father, Who art in Heaven, Hallowed by Thy name, Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil for Thine is the Kingdom and Power and Glory forever. Amen. An amen so far as I am concerned. I have fought, as I believe, an honest battle. I have fought it not for political reasons. I have fought it because I believe it is for God Almighty in all His glory and that it is right I know. That it is right I know, that I could go to bed tonight and repeat that Christian's prayer and lie down to slumber in peace and contentment.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I am a member of the Law and Order Committee, and sat in the meeting this morning and voted not to report this bill out. There was a request in that committee that an amendment be made to this bill and that was refused with the statement that they wanted this bill as it was. Let the responsibility be where it belongs.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I happen to be a member of the Law and Order Committee that passed on this bill this morning. Of course we did not want the bill amended for the purpose of taking out all the good that was in the bill. We would rather be beaten in good faith than win in bad faith. My idea of this Equal Rights Bill is, Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, is that those people, as black as they are, were not too black to go to France and stand side by side with our white soldiers and win the greatest victory the world has ever known. They are not too black to stand side by side with us white Republicans on election day, and they have not been too black for the last fifty years. They are not too black for us to sit side by side with and my family and I do not think they ought to be too black for any of you to sit by, especially if they are of good character, regardless of what the color is. Mr. Hall, of Philadelphia, well said the other day that he say a Chineman go into the Bellevue and ask for a room and was given his key and his number and he went up and got that room. The Chineman was not born here in America but born away out in China, no comparison with these people, who are coming here and asking you for simple justice and fair play. This question has been threshed out off and on during this entire session and I hope it will be threshed out continuously until they get what they want. If they do not get it here to-day, they will get it in the future just the same as the women got the vote, and just the same as other things that are agitated from year to year.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, there are no two sides to this question, these people are either right or they are wrong, and there is not a single person in this Senate who will not agree with me that they are right in asking for what they are really entitled to. They are not begging for what really belongs to them, they are demanding it, and I for one believe that they have the right to demand it.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President and members of the Senate, at the last meeting of the Senate a motion was made to refer this bill to the Committee on Judiciary General. At that time I voted against that motion. I have the highest regard for my good friend, Senator Salus, and I felt that as chairman of the Committee on Law and Order, that was the proper place for it to go and I voted to send it to his committee. I thought at that time to take it out of his committee would be a great injustice to the chairman of that committee, and I felt that that committee, composed of some of the best members, whether Democrats or Republicans of this body, would come in here with an unbiased report. I understand that their report was not for the bill, but that the purpose of that committee was to keep it in the hands of the committee. Now, gentlemen of the Senate, while I am classed,—and I am proud to say that I am of a Hebrew faith, my mother was a Hebrew, and I believe in the faith of the Hebrew, and I want to say to you, gentlemen, that if you are believers in that good man, Jesus Christ, you would all be good Christians, and I want to say to-day to you, gentlemen, that I do not want to personally break into any society where I am not wanted. I want to say to you, gentlemen, that I can pick my society, and I want to say, also, that if this bill came before us to-day and was reported affirmatively by the committee, I would stand by the committee's report, but I will not vote as a member of this Senate to discharge any committee when it has the bill before them, and have heard both sides. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I say as a member of this Senate, I would never vote as long as I am a member of this Senate to discharge a committee. I have the greatest confidence in Senator Salus and I have the greatest confidence in the Committee on Law and Order and as far as I am myself concerned, my feelings are with the other people. To a certain extent I believe, as Mr. Salus has said and Senator Vare has said, that we all are created equal, we are of the same blood, we all have the same heart. Those men who are of the colored race, they are not to blame that they were born colored. I, of the Jewish creed, am not to blame that I was born a Jew, but I want to say that I am proud I am one and I am here to say to you, gentlemen, that I will do everything I can to serve my constituents, whether they be black or white, serve them honestly and fairly, but I am opposed to discharging the committee, for the simple reason that I have the greatest confidence in them, and if the bill would have come out here to-day I would been in a position to vote for it, but I will not support any motion to discharge the Committee on Law and Order.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, my only excuse and apology for taking a very few moments of the time of the Senate is because I realize that I made a very unusual motion. It was perhaps all the more unusual coming from me. I have been a great sticker for the membership of this Senate abiding by the decisions of committees, but I feel that this is such an important question that it justifies my action in this instance in appealing to this Senate to discharge the committee from further consideration of this bill. I am honest, sincere and conscientious in my belief and my support of this measure. I live in a community that is largely populated by the negro race. Every mouthful and morsel of food that I eat in my home is prepared by negro hands, and my contention is that if these negroes are capable and competent of serving me in my house, there is no reason why I should deprive them of the right to a seat in a place of amusement if they come there and behave themselves, as I am proud to say those of my community do behave themselves. I contend that the negro is not asking for social equality. Indeed, the negroes of my community do not want social equality. All they ask is that which, in my judgment, is assured to them in the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania, and that is equal rights with our other American citizens. We did not question the color or the creed of the soldier who went abroad and I am proud to say that no finer record was made by the soldiers of my community than was made by the negro soldiers of that community, and I am proud to say that I have helped those negro boys and placed them, as far as I was able, in the positions that they were competent to fill, and they are capable and competent of filling almost any position that the white boy is capable and competent of filling.

The contention has been the upholding of the failure to report the bill from the Committee on Law and Order, on the theory that this bill should be amended. If it is the honest judgment of the majority of the members of this Senate that the bill should be amended. Why not bring it out on the floor of this Senate and have it amended in an orderly decent manner, or if it is to be killed, let us kill it and give it a decent burial in the open, and not do it behind closed doors of the committee room. I appeal to you, gentlemen, in all sense of fairness to the negroes of the State of Pennsylvania and the negroes of the United States of America, to allow us to herald from one end of this country to the other that Pennsylvania stands where she should stand, for the liberty and for the freedom of all American citizens, regardless of creed, color or race.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, surely no gentlemen of this Senate Chamber has transgressed less on the time and patience of his fellow members than have I. The chairman of the Law and Order Committee, the Senator from Philadelphia, says that his conduct is unusual, and I readily grant that it is not only unusual, but most anomolous under all the circumstances of this particular case. On Monday night a week ago, I think it was on Monday night, at any rate there was a severe contest as to whether or not that bill should be sent back to the Committee on Judiciary General or to the Committee on Law and Order. At that time the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, made it a personal matter, a thing which I could not conceive myself doing under any circumstances in any case. He made it an entirely personal matter and went so far as to state that if his fellow Senators saw it in a different light than the way he saw it that he would resign from this body. A sufficiently large number of Senators concluded that they would not put him in such an embarrassing situation where he would have to do one of two things, and so they accorded him the privilege of remaining in this body, and I find no fault with them for that, and I am not here attempting to do anything of that kind. As Senator Einstein has said, that bill was referred to his committee, the committee over which he presides, and a fair majority of this committee has decided to do a certain thing, and now we find him doing that unusual thing, that most anomolous thing, of moving to discharge his own committee. I could not conceive circumstances under which I could be persuaded to do such a thing as that with reference to the Judiciary General Committee. On a number of occasions a majority of the committee has seen fit to see things in a different way in which I have seen them and I have concluded that their judgment was better than mine. I do not know what he expects to win by this, but I think it is discourtesy to the Senate of Pennsylvania to persist in a course of this kind. I do not like to do the unusual thing of attempting to argue the merits of this bill on a motion of this kind. The door has been thrown wide open, but even a lawyer ought not to indulge in that kind of thing. I have very strong notices of the bill itself. I think perhaps I will refrain from arguing the bill from that standpoint. I think perhaps you will give me more credit for not doing that. If you give me an opportunity later, I think I shall have something to say and I shall say it most forcibly. However, it does seem to me that the Senator from Philadelphia, the chairman of this committee, is apparently dying in the last ditch, and I know you will indulge me in this little bit of pleasantry, it does not hurt at all, I cannot help but think of the story that Father Ryan told me in Westmoreland county several years ago. He said that he had an Irishman cleaning out his cellar one spring, and even the most temperate man has a bottle now and then about his house, you know, and Father Ryan had collected two or three bottles that were in the ash pile. The Irishman cleaned out the cellar and he came upon the two or three bottles and the Father happened to be coming down the stairway quietly and saw that the Irishman had taken one of the bottles up and looked at it and there was just the faintest sign of a drop in it; he picked up another one and looked at it the same way and finally the Father broke the silence and said: "Pat, they are all dead." "Yes," he said, "they are, but thank God there was a priest with them before they died."

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SALUS and Mr. VARE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—9.

Aron,	Gray,	Patton.	Schantz,
Barr,	McNichol,	Salus,	Vare,
Eyre,

NAYS—39.

Baldwin,	DeWitt,	Long,	Service,
Barnes,	Donahue,	MacDade,	Sisson,
Boyd,	Einstein,	Marlow,	Smith,
Buckman,	Hackett,	McClintock,	Snyder,
Clark,	Heaton,	McConnell,	Sones,

Crow,	Homsher,	Miller, S. J.,	Weaver,
Culbertson,	Jones,	Murdoch,	Whitten,
Daix,	Joyce,	Norton,	Woodward.
Davis,	Leslie,	Phipps,

So the question was determined in the negative.

QUESTIONS OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to say that I voted to bring out this bill from the Committee on Law and Order, to which it was committed, because, as a man that believes in a square deal and for open work, whether it be in politics or society or wherever it be, I am heartily in favor of the principle enunciated by the Senator from Chester, when he said "if the bill is to be defeated, bring it out and give it a decent burial." I sat for two long hours, listening to the discussion of this bill before this Senate committee, and I must say that I do not believe that the people who are opposed to this bill were given a square deal by the Committee on Law and Order. I am convinced of that, regardless of my high opinion of the individual members of that committee, because I came into this Senate and asked that a hearing would be held. Immediately all over this state, among the colored people, went the word out, "Barr is opposed to the colored people the same as the man who is south of the Mason and Dixon Line," and the man that came in here and offered this bill, Mr. Asbury, stood before this committee and turned to those white men and he turned to those white women, and he said, "How do we know but that this is not German propaganda? How do we know but that the South are using the whip and spur to keep the negro in the same position in Pennsylvania that they are in the South?" My answer to Mr. Asbury rests down stairs in that case, in that solid case of the American flag, that represents the men who fought in the Civil War to make the colored man free, and among those flags is one which was carried by a man whose heritage I bear, and not for any colored man or any white man, any politician or otherwise, will I deny to myself the right to that heritage, which I am proud to perpetuate as a citizen and as a soldier in defense of that same flag that he defended. I will tell you what is the matter here, gentlemen, it is not that I have not been and always will be a friend to the colored man, but I will not support the colored man who will mislead his own people, be he white or black. This is a political question and, call it what you will, gentlemen, it is still politics that has dictated this, and I say that from the start of this bill until the finish the colored race never had a chance to get other than that which they now have. You talk about your acts of Assembly. Turn to one that was passed and approved May 19, 1887. It is still on the statute books. Listen to it: "That any person, company, or corporation, being the owner, lessee, or managers of any restaurant, hotel, railroad, street railway, omnibus line, theatre, concert hall, or place of entertainment or amusement, who shall refuse, on account of race or color over their lines or into their hotels, restaurants, theatres, concert halls or places of amusement, shall upon conviction thereof be guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars." There is your bill if your colored race is being discriminated against in your restaurants and your hotels. They have recourse in the courts. The men who have been behind this bill as lawyers, and particularly the men of the colored race who are lawyers, have given rotten propaganda to their people, and they have misled them as bad as the devil tried to mislead Jesus Christ when he took him up on the mountain and promised him the whole world. One man stood there, a man who is a colored lawyer in Pittsburgh, and who pretends to lead his race, a man of education, and, as he says, of refinement, and he undertook to say that the decent women of Sewickley, he called them society women, that they had fed prize fighters raw meat that they might fight better, and then he turned to the Speaker and he said, "We don't want social equality with people of that kind." Out of his lying mouth I now convict him. The woman that he was talking about was the head of the auxiliary of the American Legion, and every word that came from that mouth was a lie, and it shows the prejudice, it shows the race hatred that man was trying to inculcate into the hearts of his own race, and I say to the members of this Senate, and I say to the colored race, that the man who will mislead his people, who will engender a hatred in the hearts of the colored race against the white man, who has given them all they have got, is far worse than the meanest, lowest anarchist in all the world, because we can get the anarchist but we cannot get the mean, low, sniveling propagandist. In God's name I appeal to the colored people, look to your leadership. I give you my personal assurance that, while being a son of a man who fought to set you free, who went to his grave with thirteen wounds from thirty-six battles and skirmishes of the Civil War, I appeal to you as a man of honor that I have been, that I always will be, your friend, but I say to you if you do not down this rotten leadership, whether it be black or white, and I make no charges against any man in the Senate or in the House, it is a general proposition,—that if you colored people do not get a better leadership than that which you now possess you are going to be set back fifty years in the education and the progress of your race. That is my defense; that is why I have asked for a hearing on this bill, that is why I have asked to bring it out on the floor of the Senate, that is why I have asked you to kill it, because you have every right that I have got, you have every civil right that the law has to give you, and when you legislate against the white man, or the black man, or the red man, or the yellow man, that is class legislation, it is immoral, it is an insult and you cannot tell me that the decent colored people, no more than the decent white people want it. For a decent hearing, for the right conception of the opposition that I have offered to this bill, is all that I want to ask of the decent, respectable colored people, not only of Pennsylvania, but of America.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask the same privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, my question is that it is unfair for Senator Barr to stand here and charge Mr. Asbury with anything that is unfair in connection with this bill, and the leadership of this bill, which was introduced over in the House. There has been such a bill here in the Legislature, for a good many years back. This bill was introduced by Mr. Asbury, who handled it just as well, if not better than any other bill of the same character was ever handled in this Senate in all the experience of my family on this hill, which is thirty-four when I finish my term at the end of the next session. It little behooved Senator Barr to sit here the other day when this hearing was held, when the colored people had one thousand per cent. the best of the hearing, absolutely on its merits, not because they were in the majority by any means, but because they presented all the forceable arguments of right and reason as to why they should have this bill, and the opposition presented nothing, absolutely nothing. I agree with Senator Barr that the colored people have all the law already on the statute books that they are after in this bill. That is not my contention. My contention is that he is absolutely wrong and there is not a Senator in this room, or any of the bystanders, that does not know that Mr. Asbury drew this bill exactly in accordance with the New York law, and presented it in a manly way, and followed it through the House over to this Senate, and every act of his was the act of a gentleman, and not only a gentleman, but as an able gentleman I am surprised and sorry that a man of the type of Senator Barr has no more respect for a gentleman, whether he is black or whether he is white, with all the ability and character that Mr. Asbury has, that he would take it on himself to stand up here and publicly ridicule a man who has nothing but honesty of purpose from the top of his head to the sole of his feet.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I ask ananimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT, is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WEAVER from the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, Senate Bill ..o. 789 (House Bill No. 1126), entitled:

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 309 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the title, line 1, by striking out the words "sections five and six" and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "section five"; also amend the bill by striking out all of section 2.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 633, as follows:

An Act to amend section five hundred and forty-two as amended and section five hundred and forty-three of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by imposing an occupation tax for school purposes on female residents of school districts of the second third and fourth class

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 858, on third reading, entitled:

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to amend an act, entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations,' approved the twenty-ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, providing for the incorporation and regulation of electric light, heat and power companies," approved the eighth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, by extending the powers of every corporation heretofore or hereafter incorporated for the supply of light, heat and power or any of them to the public by electricity and of every corporation which has heretofore accepted the provisions of said act as provided therein, and granting to every such corporation the power to appropriate property outside the limits of public streets, lanes, alleys and highways subject to the finding by the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the service to be furnished through the exercise of said power is necessary or proper for the service, accommodation, convenience or safety of the public, and providing a method for the assessment of damages arising from such appropriation.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to know whether the Senator from Philadelphia has any objection to this bill going back to the committee for a hearing.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, in answer to the interrogatory of the Senator from Allegheny I would say that I have at the present time. It is by request that I have been putting this bill over from day to day for the purpose of some people getting together and having a conference on the matter, and probably pass it at an early day. If this bill gets back into committee, it may remain there for a couple of days before we have a hearing, and if Mr. Barr has any amendments that he would like to make, I would prefer that it be amended before the Senate, so that an early passage of the bill may be secured when it meets the approval of everybody.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I call the Senator's attention to the fact that Senate Bill No. 956, following, is a bill about which there is a disagreement and that I will ask it to be sent to go back to committee. I have been trying to get the parties together, although I have not been able to, and they have requested that both bills be sent back for a hearing.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, it was my intention when we reach Senate Bill No. 956 on the calendar to make the same report. I will say this to the Senator from Allegheny, that if our people cannot get together by to-morrow, I will be perfectly willing to have the bill recommitted.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 865 (House Bill No. 1184), entitled:

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 339.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 339, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (c) section three hundred and six of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder."

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL NO. 153 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

He also presented for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives, as follows:

House Bill No. 153, entitled:

An Act authorizing and directing a city of the third class to provide by ordinance for the payment for public work or improvements heretofore made for and accepted by such city where no legal or valid contract was entered into as required by law.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows:

Amend the title, line 1, by striking out after the word "authorizing" the words "and directing"; also section 1, page 1, line 4, by inserting after the word "whenever" the word "heretofore."

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

MEMORIAL SERVICE ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE HORACE L. HALDEMAN, LATE SENATOR FROM THE SEVENTEENTH DISTRICT.

The Senate met at 2.30 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. F. E. Baldwin) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. This being the time fixed by resolution for holding the memorial services on the death of Honorable Horace L. Haldeman, late Senator from the Seventeenth District, the Senate will be in order and will be opened with prayer by the Chaplain.

The acting Chaplain, Rev. J. T. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Amid the busy hours of life when men are called upon to think over the great problems that confront them, we are stopped by the act of Thy providence to pay our tribute of respect, love and esteem for those who once were in our midst, thinking as men think, performing the duties of life as men were called upon to perform them. We are assembled here this afternoon invoking Try richest benediction upon those who are bereaved because of this separation, who held in dearest memory their work in life. We ask it in Christ's name. Amen.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE HORACE L. HALDEMAN, LATE SENATOR FROM THE SEVENTEENTH DISTRICT.

Mr. HOMSHER offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, It hath pleased the Divine and All-wise Providence to call from his earthly activities the Honorable Horace L. Haldeman, Senator from the Seventeenth District of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, His public and official services to his county, State and the nation, were such as to bring him distinction and to mark him as one of our Commonwealth's foremost citizens. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate give expression to the loss it has sustained by the death of our late colleague and friend, whose qualities of heart and mind brought to him prominence and respect and endeared him to all.

Resolved, That in Senator Haldeman we found the highest example of good citizenship, and that as a soldier, statesman, business man and gentleman he was an exemplar and a true knight without reproach.

Resolved, That we extend to his family, bereaved of his manly and tender presence, our heartfelt sympathy, and pray for them that consolation that can only come from Him, who doeth all things well, and we join with them in the satisfaction of the recollection and memory of his lifework so useful and well done.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, duly engrossed and attested be forwarded to his family.

JOHN G. HOMSHER,
CLEON N. BERNTHEIZEL,
WILLIAM DAVID CRAIG,
HORACE W. SCHANTZ,
SAMUEL W. SALUS,
AUGUSTUS F. DAIX, JR.,
CLARENCE J. BUCKMAN.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, it is not my intention to speak an encomium to Senator Haldeman. Anything that I might say in the way of mere praise could not in the least add to the impressions he has left upon those who knew him and the times in which he lived. Nor do I intend, at this busy hour, to attempt any extended rehearsal of the many activities of his long and eventful life. Suffice to say that he was a man of action, and was a worthy scion of an ancestry alike prominent in the affairs of their times and generations. His lineage is traced to Jacob Haldeman, who immigrated here from Neuchatel, Switzerland, in 1772, and was one of the committee of public safety during the Revolutionary War. He was a descendant in the seventh generation of Honeste Gaspard Haldeman, a relative of the noted British General, Sir Frederick Haldeman, at one time Governor General of Canada. On his mother's side he was a descendant of Melchor Breneman, who fled from religious persecution in the Palatinate about 1715. Senator Haldeman was born September 16, 1847. His father was a maker of iron and as a young man he learned that business and followed it as a vocation most of his business life. He was a soldier of the Civil War and was one of that war's youngest officers. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Emma Jones, a daughter of James R. Jones, a native of Wales, and who was also a maker of iron. Their one child, Miss Maude Haldeman, also survives him.

But it is as a man of culture and refinment that I want chiefly to speak of him. In manner he was a patrician in all but the form and ostentation. He had a subtle refinement that could only emanate from an inherent culture and self control. His etiquette was faultless and without formality, and his bearing was that of a perfect gentleman. He made no play to attract popular acclaim to himself, and yet reached distinction in all the lines of his activities and endeavor. Patriotism was to him a devotion. With a citizenship like his our country will never need to fear peril from any source or kind. And with all this he was one of the kind of men, the longer and better you knew them, the greater becomes your admiration and respect.

Mr. President, we may well pause at passing of a life like that and learn, if we can, the lesson of his example. In the race for success in our chosen lines of endeavor there is danger that the cultivation of the ethics that lie at the very foundtation of high citizenship and real success in life are too much overlooked in our education. The qualities that make for such a citizen and gentleman cannot be assumed. They must be grounded in character and spring spontaneously. Nor can they be attained entirely by academical erudition, but must have their foundation in morality, self restraint, high ideals of character and citizenship.

Personally I felt a bereavement by his departure. I had learned to admire and like him as a near friend. Up to about a year before his death he enjoyed a strength and vitality unusual for one of his years. I saw him after his strength began to decline, and when he was ill, and still to the last was met with the same brave, courteous and smiling face and manner that was his wont. I was glad for the strength that sustained him, and I felt that he went

> "Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
> About him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Mr. BERNTHEIZEL. Mr. President, it was not my privilege to serve in this body with Senator Haldeman. It will be recalled that I was elected as his successor from the Seventeenth Senatorial District. Senator Haldeman was elected to this body in 1916. He was nominated to succeed himself in the fall of 1920, but died just six days prior to the election. His name was placed on the ballot as a tribute to the worth of the man, and as an evidence of the esteem in which he was held by his constituents. The name Horace L. Haldeman, the man having been dead for six days, polled the largest majority ever given in the Seventeenth Senatorial District.

I knew Senator Haldeman as a legislator only indirectly. I knew him as the kind, the earnest, the active, the painstaking, able representative of the Seventeenth Senatorial District. I knew him as a legislator to whom no work in behalf of a constituent was arduous. As his neighbor and friend I knew him as one of our most influential citizens. As a man who had a distinguished war record, and as a man of big broad business affairs and interests.

Colonel Haldeman, for by that name we know him locally in Lancaster County, was mustered into the United States Army in July, 1863, as First Lieutenant, Company B, Twentieth Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry. He was then less than sixteen years of age. The annals of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion state that Horace L. Haldeman was one of the youngest, if not the youngest commissioned officer in the Civil War. He was mustered out of service in July, 1865, as Captain of Company I, Twentieth Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry. During these two years of active service in the army, Colonel Haldeman was appointed to several very important commissions and served in several important departmental positions, thus coming in contact with some of the brightest men of that day. It was my privilege on several occasions to have Colonel Haldeman detail to me many incidents during that period, and it is an easy surmise to one who knew Colonel Haldeman well that that early contact with the forceful men of that period had a tremendous influence on his after life.

I knew Colonel Haldeman best as a member of the National Guard. He was mustered into that service in 1903, about the same time that I was. That same year he was appointed Assistant Commissary General of Subsistance, with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, by Governor Pennypacker. He was reappointed in 1907 by Governor Stuart, who later appointed him Commissary General of Subsistance, with the rank of Colonel. He was reappointed by Governors Tener and Brumbaugh. He retired from the service in March of last year with the rank of Brigadier-General. While in the service I saw very much of Colonel Haldeman, and I can testify that his associates and superior officers regarded him as a most worthy and efficient officer.

Senator Haldeman was probably more widely known as a man of big business affairs. He was in the pig iron business for fifty years. One of the leading iron periodicals on the occasion of his death stated that Horace L. Haldeman was one of the best known pig iron men in the United States. For more than a quarter of a century he conducted blast furnaces at Chiques, Pennsylvania, and for almost twenty-five years he was connected with the Pulaski Iron Company at Pulaski, Virginia, retiring as its president. It is said of Senator Haldeman that he was the first man in the United States to be able to make Bessemer pig iron out of all Cornwall ore.

Senator Haldeman was a man of many activities. He was a member of eighteen technical, patriotic and historical societies. He was loved most by those who knew him best. A student, congenial companion, a successful business man, conscientious legislator, I shall do well as his successor in this Senate if I emulate his example.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, and fellow members of the Senate, I have mingled feelings of pleasure and regret at having to attend this service this afternoon. Pleasure that I am permitted to add a few words of respectful tribute to Senator Haldeman, regret at the necessity of speaking those few words. It seems hard to me that just at the end of the session, that to the feeling of sadness that we must have on account of our forthcoming departure from the society of the men with whom we have labored all winter, must be added this additional burden of sorrow of holding these additional memorial services for our fellow Senators who have gone since we were here last. Mr. President, I did not have the pleasure of knowing Senator Haldeman for a long time. My acquaintance with him began in the 1917 session, when I first came here, but in the short time that I did know Senator Haldeman, I grew to respect him very much. Senator Haldeman was a man of matured years, of ripened judgment and rich experience. He was always to be found in his seat, never taken up with the pleasures that lead some of us younger men in the Senate from the strict path of attending to the duties of our office in the interests of our constituents. Senator Haldeman was always to be found diligently laboring to look after the things in which the people of his district were interested. He was a man of earnest and deep conviction, and when he had become sure in his own mind of the proper course to pursue, there was no question of political or temporary expediency that could divert him in the slightest degree from following what he thought was his line of duty. The people of Senator Haldeman's district, who knew and loved him so well, did not know and love him better than we who knew him here. There is not anything that I could say to the members of this Senate that would lead them to any deeper appreciation of the sterling virtues and qualitis of Senator Haldeman than they already know. There is not anything that I could say to the people of his district or to those directly and closely associated with him, whom he left behind, that can lighten in the least their burden of sorrow. The people of his community have lost a distinguished citizen and the people of the State have lost a faithful servant. I do not want to preach a sermon, fellow Senators, but I can hardly refrain from saying to you again the same things which I have said to you before on occasions similar to this, that if the achievements and the life of men like Senator Haldeman do not teach us the necessity and importance of extending to each other, and to all with whom we come in contact here, a kinder spirit of sympathy and deeper understanding and a more friendly spirit, we might almost say that they lived in vain, or at least that our association with them has been in vain. Mr. President, when the time comes that I have to answer the rollcall in the Senate across the river, if God will only be good enough to me to take me to the same place that he has taken the ten members of this Senate that have died in the four short years that I have been a member of the body, I will be content.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate of Pennsylvania: In rising to second the adoption of the resolution just offered I do so with a feeling of sadness and regret that it should have been necessary for us to have met upon this solemn occasion. Our departed brother, Senator Haldeman, was not a man who would force his attentions or his society upon anyone. He is a man who, when once he was your friend, was always your friend. I first became acquainted with him prior to his entrance into this body in the year 1915 when, as a member of the Governor's staff, he accompanied a party of which I was a member to the exposition in California, and in that way I became better acquainted with him and his family than I would have had I not made that trip. Senator Haldeman was one of the three in this Senate, one of those three white-haired men who wore the blue during the Republic's peril, over fifty years ago. Two years ago we went to Wilkes-Barre and laid to rest the Senator from Luzerne County, Mr. Catlin. Last fall it was my sad privilege to go to Marietta to see the remains of Senator Haldeman laid away, but praise God we still have in our midst that grand old man from Philadelphia, Mr. Patton. To have known Senator Haldeman is to have known a man who has stood for the highest examples of American citizenship, not only in his home life or in his business life, but in the political life of Pennsylvania, and those who have served in this Senate during the sessions of 1917 and 1919 are better because he has lived. His example in this body was a model to each and every one of us.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?
The yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz.:

YEAS—50.

The motion was agreed to.

MEMORIAL SERVICE ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE WILBUR P. GRAFF, LATE SENATOR FROM THE THIRTY-SEVENTH DISTRICT.

The Senate met at 3.30 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. F. E. Baldwin), in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. This being the time fixed by resolution for holding the memorial services on the death of Honorable Wilbur P. Graff, late Senator from the Thirty-seventh District, the Senate will be in order and will be opened with prayer by the Chaplain.

The Acting Chaplain, Rev. J. T. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Thy ways are not our ways. Thy ways are beyond our comprehension, but if our faith is in Thee and we are satisfied with Thy will then we possess that faith that cannot be taken from us. As we are gathered here today to pay our respects to the memory of our friend, our co-worker, our lover of State and defender of nation, we invoke Thy richest benediction upon us. We thank Thee our Father, for the life of our late Senator Graff. We thank Thee for his manly character, we thank Thee for his loving spirit. We thank Thee for his fairness in the administration of those things he was called upon to administer. We thank Thee that he was one who stood fearlessly for the truth and out of that fearlessness he made lives happy ,he brought happiness unto saddened homes, and from the material wealth which he was able to gather about him he strewed sunshine in the lives of the poor. We pray that our lives may be like his, and that our vision may ever be like until his and our fairness in the affairs of life shall be like his, and then we shall hear that great King of Kings and Lord of Lords say unto us "Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for Thee from the foundation of the world. Amen.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE WILBUR P. GRAFF, LATE SENATOR FROM THE THIRTY-SEVENTH DISTRICT.

Mr. CLARK offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, The Great Ruler of the Universe has, in His infinite wisdom, removed from our midst the Honorable Wilbur P. Graff, late a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania from the Thirty-seventh Senatorial District; and

Whereas, The members of this body desire to record their testimony in respect for his memory; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the sudden death of such a man, whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation for his fellows, causes deep sorrow, but consolation is found in the belief that it is well with him for whom we mourn;

Resolved, That we tender to the family of the late Senator Wilbur P. Graff, our sympathy, and that we share with them the hope of a re-union in that better world where there are no partings. We direct that a copy of these resolutions, duly engrossed and attested, be transmitted to the family of the deceased as an evidence of our respect and veneration for the Christian character of a good man called home.

JOSEPH O. CLARK,
T. L. EYRE,
WILLIAM E. CROW,
JAMES B. WEAVER,
EDWIN H. VARE,
M. G. LESLIE,
CHARLES E. DONAHUE.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. President, members of the Senate, members of the family and friends: It is with a feeling of sadness that I speak upon this occasion, to pay a just tribute of respect to the memory of my predecessor, the late Senator Wilbur P. Graff, who so ably and conscientiously represented the Thirty-seventh Senatorial District in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Graff was President of one of the leading banking institutions of Central Pennsylvania. The patrons of that good institution never questioned its solvency, as they had absolute confidence in its President. So it was with other important and extensive enterprises in which Mr. Graff was interested. When the business world knew that Wilbur P. Graff was connected with a business organization, that was sufficient guarantee that all persons having dealings with such business enterprise would at all times be accorded equitable and just treatment. Such was the business reputation of this good man.

The same may be said of his career in the State Senate. Any legislation with which he was identified never needed to be scrutinized, but was right morally and otherwise, and had the hearty approval of his constituents.

Because of his sterling qualities and pleasing personality, he earned the respect, confidence and admiration of his business associates, his employes and all others with whom he came in contact.

His noble deeds were so numerous that it may be truly said the world is better for his having lived in it.

His life was an inspiration.

His memory a benediction.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, my heart is filled with sorrow as I rise to pay tribute to my old friend and business associate and Senatorial colleague, The Honorable Wilbur P. Graff. I had known him intimately for more than fifteen years, had been intimately associated with him in numerous business enterprises during that period. When he and I entered the Senate of Pennsylvania together, I felt indeed that I had a friend in whom I could repose the most absolute confidence and trust. Senator Graff's word was as good as his bond. He was courageous and bold in his business life and his business enterprises and he inspired those of us who were associated with him in those business enterprises with his enthusiasm. He made a marked success of his business enterprises and I owe to Senator Graff and his memory a debt of gratitude that I will never be able to pay. In his life he was as trusting as a child; he was absolutely as confiding as a child could be and yet when it came to the carrying out of his convictions he never waivered for a moment. His foresight was greater than that of any man with whom I have ever been brought in contact. He had a broad comprehensive view and grasp upon both public and private affairs. He was generous to a fault and honest to the core. In a business deal, if you were associated with Senator Graff, you could be sure that if there was a dollar to divide you would get the largest half of the dollar, and when he gave his word you did not need to stop for a moment to wonder whether it would be kept, because his word was as good as his bond. I really think that next to his family there is no man in the State of Pennsylvania who feels so deeply and keenly the loss of Senator Graff as do I. It was the greatest shock that ever came into my life to learn of his deceased. Unfortunately I was in the woods of Maine at the time of his death and burial and did not learn of his passing away until I reached New York City one or two days after he had been placed in his last resting place, and it has been the one regret of my life that I left civilization so that I could not be at his bier to have paid my last tribute there, and, therefore, I must content myself with paying the last tribute of respect that I can pay to the late Senator Graff on the floor of the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania. I have no hesitation in saying that Senate Graff's life was one that we could all emulate to great advantage and the world is very much better for Senator Graff having lived in it. He was generous in his distribution of charity and yet never allowed his right hand to know what his left hand was doing. His distribution of charity to the poor not only of his district, but his distributions were State-wide, were very large in amount, and yet you never heard Senator Graff speak of the munificence that he was bestowing upon others. I wish I possessed words to fully express my own real feelings of admiration for my departed friend. In all my long years of intercourse with him, I never left him that I did not feel better for having been associated with him, and I can only say here as a parting tribute to Senator Graff that if I could feel that when my time comes to pass to the great beyond that I would leave one-tenth of the void in the world that I feel Senator Graff has left I would feel that life had been well worth living. Mr. President, in conclusion, I want to say that his memory will live with me forever. I have before me on my desk in my office in the city of Philadelphia his last photograph and I gain great inspiration as I gaze into the face of that photograph day by day, facing me, as it does, constantly when I am in my business office, and if I have any reputation at all for truth and candor I feel that I owe it, to a large extent, to my association with the good man in whose memory we are here today. May that memory live with me forever, and I sincerely hope that I may be able to, in some degree, emulate the life that he lived, and be possessed of the sincere friendship that he was possessed of when my time comes to pass over to meet him in the great beyond.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, crushed to earth under an insupportable load of affliction, Job cried out: "If a man die, shall he live again?" His inquiry had reference to that other, unknown world.

But every completely normal person has a desire that he shall continue to live here in this world after his physical life has ceased to be. It is true that there are some so taken up with the "gew-gaws," the glitter and glamor of to-day's grossly physical existence as to be insensible to the immortality which a normal person has a right to expect among his friends, after he is gone. Oh! how one does shrink from the thought of being forgotten. With some of us, however,

> "They throng the silence of the breast,
> We see them as of yore—
> The kind, the true, the brave, the good,
> Who walk with us no more."

Among the members of this body, Senator Graff was my nearest neighbor. Although we had known each other in a general way for many years before, after entering the Senate on the same day, we came to know each other intimately. Having served a term in the House immediately before coming here, I had acquired some little knowledge of legislative affairs. During the first session, we occupied adjoining seats. Owing to the generosity of his mind and the kindness of his heart, I have frequently heard him place too high an estimate on the little help I then rendered him; for he was a most capable man, and able to keep himself under almost any circumstances.

The one thing I, personally, prized as highly, perhaps, more highly, than anything else in him was his quiet, unobtrusive, unostentatious way. He was thoroughly equipped to succeed both by nature and education. He did not, however, weary people with constantly thrusting either these things or himself upon the attention of others. Emerson was not discussing the class to which Senator Graff belonged, when he said: "What you do talks so loud, I can't hear what you say."

Unfortunately, he was not a man of rugged physique. Indeed, he had been in rather delicate health for many years. There were those, therefore, in view of the fact that he might have lived without work, who thought it would have been better if he had been less industrious. I am not at all certain that I ought to agree with them; for next to his wife, his little boy, his mother, his brothers and sisters, all of whom he dearly loved, and who treasured him with the warmest affection, he was devoted to his work. His work was more pleasure to him than a holiday excursion to thousands of others. The men who have moved and made the world have been infinitely more attached to their work than to mere pleasure-seeking. With Whittier they believe:

"Better the toil of fields like these, than waking dreams and slothful ease."

If we were to recount all that he had accomplished in his frail condition of body, and compare it with what thousands of so-called brilliant-minded and vigorous-bodied persons have done, we should be constrained to call his work a miracle in miniature, reminding us in some small measure of that infinitely greater work of the Great Teacher with the five loaves and two fishes.

I cannot refrain from contrasting his courage and fortitude with the actions of several men of my acquaintance, who have survived severe attacks of sickness quite a number of years, and who have spent all the intervening years in simply existing, meantime making most insistent demands on every person about them. As for myself, I hope that I shall not remain here long, when neither hands nor mind can any longer serve my fellowmen.

He was as faithful and painstaking in this chamber and in all his duties as a State Senator as he was in his own private business, which was very extensive. Always pleasant and cheerful, it is easy for those of us, who knew him intimately, to see him in our imagination walking toward us with a cheerful smile on his face, and with a kind word of salutation.

He was a Christian gentleman, in deed and in truth. But even in this matter, he was modest and most unassuming. In discussing the faith that was in him concerning the future life, I know of no better way than to contrast parts of two poems, written by two of our own American literary men.

William Dean Howells, in somewhat agnostic or at least faithless vein, says:

"I was not asked if I should like to come:
I have not seen my host here since I came,
Or had a word of welcome in his name.
Some say that we shall never see him—
Some that we shall see him hereafter,
And then know why we were bid.
None, they say, was ever told
When he should come or go;
But every now and then there bursts upon the song and mirth,
A lamentable noise—a sound of shrieks and sobs,
That strikes the joy dumb in our breast
And then some one is gone.
They say we meet him—none knows when or where;
But this we know,
We shall not see him here again."

That does not represent the sublime faith of our departed friend.

James Whitcomb Riley gives us exactly what we want in relation to this good man's present status:

"I can not say; and I will not say
That he is dead—He is just away.
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be since he lingers there.
And you, oh! you, who the wildest yearn
For the old time step and the glad return.
Think of him faring on as dear
In the love of there as the love of here.
Think of him still as the same I say;
He is not dead—He is just away."

Mr. DONAHUE. Mr. President and members of the Senate:

It is with a deep sad pleasure that I speak a word in memory of our late colleague and Senator, Wilbur P. Graff, who passed away Wednesday afternoon, September 15th, 1920.

It was my privilege to attend his funeral and note the high esteemn in which he was held in his community. There were billowed about him great pillows of flowers. There was no distinction of affection in race or creed. The entire town of Blairsville was hushed in silent sorrow.

Others have told of his success and achievments. I shall endeavor to recall him to our memory as he now lies at rest, forever exempt from earthly pain, in peaceful slumber.

The word "Farewell" is written on the threshold of Life, sooner or later, parent and child, sister and brother, friend and foe, must part to meet no more. The rich man must bid good-bye to his riches; the sensual man to his pleasures; the poet to his dream; the philosopher to his theories; all must bid farewell to life. To-day the flowers bud forth, to-morrow comes a killing frost and they bid their mute "Farewell" to the spring. The American poet puts is briefly—

"This Life is made up of sunshine and shadow, and of smiles and tears,
And leads by pathways down by lomesome meadows
Wherein our tomb appears."

This day is sacred to us, it calls us from the battle of life, the pursuit of gain, the strife for honors, and the contest for place, power and possession. It calls us even from the struggle for existence. It turns us from ourselves and our broken ties. It bids us recall the past and the companion of former days. A portion of this day has been set apart, that we might pause and pay tribute to our dear dead friend.

On this day there comes to us the sad, sweet, sacred sorrow for him. It comes to us as a benediction, and is both a sad pleasure and a sweet sorrow. A sorrow we cherish as our richest legacy, a sorrow we prize as our fondest memory, a sorrow which becomes more endearing to us as time recedes, a sorrow to which we cling long as life lasts and more and more fondly as we near its close.

Sooner or later this sorrow comes into the lives of us all, but all grief fades from it as the years go by, until there is so little sadness in it that we do not mourn, but are thankful for its mellowing influence. This sorrow is so full of hope that we are never left comfortless, it is so full of faith, that we realize that the angel messanger bearing away our loved one is not black but white, that he does not assail the earthly tenement that death may come in, but only opens the door that life may go out. He opens the door that life may escape from its prison of clay and fly away to the enjoyment of a longer and freerer realm.

Death is so uncertain. He strides upon the heights and he walks in the valleys. He intrudes into the crowds of men, and is found in the deepest solitudes. He rides upon the storms and strikes with wildest fury. He steals with softest tread into every quiet nook leaving all along his pathway silent forever. He stalks upon the battlefield and revels in slaughter. He creeps into the abodes of peace and hushes all sound and stills all motion. He glides in the sunshine and lurks in the shadow. Though at times we may forget him, he will not forget us. He is never far away and lies in wait for us on every corner. He is close to us throughout the day and at night he hovers by.

Death is inexorable. He is a stranger to pity, deaf to entreaty, and insensible to blandishment. Though he may turn away should any call him, he will nevertheless come upon them unbidden. He may come upon youth in its bloom and often strikes manhood in its strength, and is sure to overtake age in its failing power. He changes joy into sadness, pleasure into sorrow, mirth into morning, gladness into grief and delgiht into despair. He comes to the marriage feast and the wedding march becomes a dirge. He appears amid scenes of mirth and jollity and merriment flies away in terror and laughter is frozen upon the lips.

The merciless monarch is armed with ten thousand weapons and he smiles and strikes with sudden and resistless ferocity like the thunders crash or he stills the crimson current and steals the vital breath like sleep wooing the child from play. But whether he comes upon us in the fury of his might or in the stealth of his mystery all of us, surrender to his power, acknowledge him conquerer and fall into his cold embrace.

The realm in which we live is the realm of mortality and its king is the King of Terrors. He is coming to us by and by. He is coming for each of us, as he has need of us, and he will come to each but once.

"One by one we lose the hand clasps
That so warm a welcome gave
One by one the voices silence
In the stillness of the grave.
One by one we miss the faces
Of the forms we once caressed.
One by one their names are graven,
'Ceased to labor.' 'Home.' 'At Rest.' "

Oh how mighty is death since all men and all things must come under its dominion.

O potent death that can do so much. And yet how impotent is death since he can only give sin, pain and earth to decay and destruction, all else escape him and flee to the skies. His touch but crystallizes all good deeds and thoughts into the durability of eternity. Men may die but the lives of those who truly live can never die. Our dead brother is not lost to us for we are all to follow him. He is not forgotten, his form and face we see and they are companions with us always. With sweet sorrow and sad pleasure we call him to memory over and over again until all sadness passes away and recollections of him becomes the most cherished of our lives.

Whenever we think of our dead, we think also of life, We know that life ends in death, yet somehow we feel that death is but the beginning of life again. We do not understand it, neither do we understand why or how the seed dies only to give birth to the flowers which in time wither away in order that the seed may ripen again.

No we do not understand it, neither did Paul when he said—"Behold I show you a mystery, we shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed."

Do you know where we get this hope of life beyond the toms? It grows out of our dependence. It is born of our distress. It is nourished with our tears. It is wrung from the bleeding heart of the mother weeping at the grave of her child.

At the departure of every friend we feel the breaking of another chain that binds us to this world and the entwining of another cord that draws us to the world to come. When we first stand by the narrow home of buried love we may indeed "look at the clouds and they are dumb," we may indeed look into the faces of sorrowing friends, and our agony only grows deeper as we meet their gaze of helpless sympathy. We return home and there every familiar object reminds us again and again of our loss. But comfort comes by and by, we then rise in our strength and triumph comes at last and we say of him who can never come to us as David said of old "I will go to him."

"I cannot say and I will not say
That he is dead—He is just away."

"With a cheery smile, and a move of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land."

"And left us wandering how very fair
It need must be since he lingers there."

"And you—O you who the wildest yearn
For the old time step and the glad return."

"Think of him faring, as dear.... ....
In the love of There as the love of Here."

"Think of him still as the same I say,
He is not dead—He is just away."

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?
The yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the memorial session of the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President. I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MEMORIAL SERVICE ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE DAVID MARTIN, LATE SENATOR FROM THE EIGHTH DISTRICT.

The Senate met at 4.30 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. F. E. Baldwin), in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. This being the time fixed by resolution for holding the memorial services on the death of Honorable David Martin, late Senator from the Eighth District, the Senate will be in order and will be opened with prayer by the Chaplain.

The Acting Chaplain, Rev. J. T. Davis, offered the following prayer:

We continue before Thee, O God, our recognition of Thy power. Whatsoever Thou doest Thou doest well. Yet out of our infinite minds we cannot understand why the great hand has been laid upon men of this Senate, and taken them away from the active duties of State and nation, from neighbors and friends, unto Thyself, but with humble hearts, torn asundred in sorrow and sadness, we humble ourselves in submission to Thy will, and may it be for Thy glory and our good. Amen.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE DAVID MARTIN, LATE SENATOR FROM THE EIGHTH DISTRICT.

Mr. VARE offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

WHEREAS, Our fellow Senator and honored friend, Hon. David Martin, of the Eighth Senatorial District of Philadelphia county, has been called, by an ever wise and omnipotent God, from the active walks of life to the great unchanging eternity, and

WHEREAS, Fifty years of public service to his city and State deserve at the hands of his colleagues some special commendation,

NOW BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby records its deep grief at the demise of this illustrious citizen and voices the thought universal throughout all the communities of the State that the death of our late colleague has inflicted upon us an irreparable loss both socially and politically, and

RESOLVED, That it be the sentiment of the Senate of Pennsylvania that in the death of the Hon. David Martin, there was closed one of the most memorable and illustrious careers that was ever vouchsafed a son of Pennsylvania. A full half century of public service became the record of our late friend, when he closed his eyes in death on the 31st of May, 1920, and during all those years he was never unfaithful to a trust, never lessened his loyalty to his associates, nor sought any excuse to deviate in the slightest degree from his pledged word.

AND NOW BE IT RESOLVED, That we tender to the family of the late Hon. David Martin, this testimonial of our sympathy in the great loss of this public spirited man and that we direct a copy of these resolutions duly engrossed and attested to be forwarded to the members of the family of the deceased.

EDWIN H. VARE,
EDWARD W. PATTON,
WILLIAM E. CROW,
SAMUEL W. SALUS,
WILLIAM J. McNICHOL,
GEORGE GRAY,
MAX ARON,
T. L. EYRE.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, in rising in my place to add my thoughts to the apparently unanimous sentiment of this Chamber that these resolutions that have just been presented, shall be adopted and placed among the records of the Senate, thus becoming a permanent memorial to David Martin, expressing the love and affection in which we held him during life, the grief that we experienced at his death and the memory that we cherish for him, now that he is gone—I do so, not in the mere perfunctory discharge of a public duty, but what I am about to say concerning this man will be uttered with a keen appreciation of my absolute inability to convey to your minds the real sense of loss and keen grief that I feel in that a true personal friend has gone. When David Martin closed his eyes in death on that beautiful May day of last Spring, men of all shades of thought, many of them who had given themselves over in the past to the sharpest criticism of the public acts of the departed, joined in a friendly rivalry in commendation of the life of the late Senator.

David Martin was born on August 20, 1845. He came of sturdy Scotch-Irish stock. His father, George Martin and all his forebears were of this fighting, determined people who so early impressed themselves upon Pennsylvania that they gave to our State that determination of purpose and tenacity of endeavor that has always characterized the people of the great Keystone State.

At the age of twenty young Martin moved to the Nineteenth ward and to the day of his death his great Republican stronghold of the city of Philadelphia was known because it was the home of David Martin. He became a member of the Republican Executive Committee in 1866 and held it continuously until the day of his death. His first advent into public office was as Sergeant of Arms of the House of Representative in 1873. From that time to the present his course had been one continually progressive advancement in political life, in such honorable posts as County Commissioner of Philadelphia, Mercantile Appraiser, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, under the appointment of President Harrison, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Insurance Commissioner, Register of Wills of Philadelphia and twice elected to a membership in this body.

Our late colleague was also an active figure in national battles. He had been a member of the Republican National Committee. He was a delegate to the National Republican Convention in 1888, which nominated President Harrison for President of the United States. At the National Convention of 1896 he was one of the six Pennsylvania delegates who at all times voted for the nomination of William McKinley, and it is a fact conceded by all competent to know that the election of at least two Republican Presidents of the United States was due to his matchless leadership and knowledge of detail.

The last few years of his life found him in intimate political and social relationship with myself. He was a safe and sound adviser. His long experience in public life brought to him amature judgment and most fortunate indeed was anyone who so enjoyed his confidence that he would open the recess of his fertile mind and pour forth words of advice and wisdom acquired by these long and eventful years of experience.

David Martin was warmhearted and true. He never lost a real friend, nor was any man ever alienated from his allegiance who had enjoyed the opportunity of intimate personal association with him. His close political associates in his own home section of Philadelphia, were in large numbers, men of equal age who through boyhood and from young manhood into the mature years of life had stood loyally by him and thus through their constancy became irrefutable evidence of the worth of the man to whom they had thus given a life long service.

David Martin knew no fear. The very last few months of his life will ever remain in the memory of those about him as the most significant in his whole career. He refused the opportunity to refrain from a severe and acrimonious political battle that really terminated his life. His friends, and I was one of them, urged upon him that his age would constitute a proper and most convincing reason why he should decline to enter into the last contest that marked his brilliant and unconquered career. But David Martin was impatient at any such suggestion. He never avoided contests when he thought he was right, and when he fought he fought a noble fight. This aged man, sapped of his vitality because of a contest that was thrust upon him, not of his own making, closed his eyes when victory had been achieved and slept the sleep of a victorious general—never to awake. He went to his last reward just as he wanted to—in the midst of battle. He lay down to his last sleep without having endured lingering illness nor having felt the diminishing strength that goes with long sickness, nor did he suffer the experience of the impotency of old age. He was not the lot of the man who is compelled to stand aside, waiting for death, while others do his work. David Martin died in the harness, and on the very day that he passed away he had visited the busy centers of Philadelphia's political life in the service of those dependent upon him.

We all will cherish his memory. We all will feel that his departure has left in our hearts a vacancy that never can be filled. Time, of course, will assuage the acuteness of grief, but as the years pass on, we will ever realize that David Martin's life was worth while and that he his left behind a heritage of happy recollection and mature advice. We are rich in the memory of our departed friend.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, I am reminded, as I rise to pay tribute to my late friend and colleague, of a tract that was hung in my office by a friend a few weeks ago containing the following inscription:

"When the One Great Scorer comes,
To write against your name,
He writes not if you won or lost,
But how you played the game."

I know how my late friend and colleague played the game. He played it squarely in the open always. He was a devoted friend, and, while a severe antagonist, yet never in an acrimonious way. I have known my late friend and colleague for a period covering more than thirty years. I had been associated with him in contests of a political nature in the State of Pennsylvania, and I have been in contests in the State of Pennsylvania antagonistic to him, and I know that he has always played the game squarely and in the open, and I think that in the long years of public life that he spent, that it can be said that no man in public life in Pennsylvania ever led a cleaner and better life than did the late Honorable David Martin. He leaves a heritage to his family and to his friends that is well worth emulating. As has been said by my distinguished colleague from Philadelphia, he had been in public life since a young man, and he rose from obscurity to a forceful place, not only in politics in the State of Pennsylvania, but in the United States, by his own forceful policy, and by his own qualifications as a leader of men, and he went to his death with his boots on, in the contest that was waged with the greatest vigor and acrimony perhaps of any contest with which he had ever been connected; but, as usual, victory perched on his banner, and I can only say, in conclusion, that David Martin has left an example in the Senate of Pennsylvania that is well worth our thought, our study and emulation. In this body he was always kindly disposed toward all of his colleagues, and he gave encouragement to all the young members of this body as they came into it. He was always willing to lend a hand to help those who needed help in this body, and I say say with all candor and sincerity, I have never known a man in public life for whom I have had a higher regard and whose death brought me more sorrow than did the late Honorable David Martin.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I did not expect to make any remarks, and believe me, it is a very hard thing for me to speak upon. David Martin, when I first knew him, came to my office and asked me to be a candidate for County Commissioner, and that, I am sure, was some time in the early part of the '70's, and from that date to the day he died he was my close, personal, intimate friend. I can say nothing about him but good. His word was his bond. He was a man, every inch of him, and his advice was eagerly sought and, when followed, was absolutely right. He made few mistakes in his life. He was generous, open-handed and always helping somebody. He has gone to his long home, and may it be said of when I go,—it will not be many years now,—that I was as good a man to my friends as David Martin.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate. It has been said in poetry:

"And what if thou withdraw
Unheeded by the living, and no friend
Take notice of the departure?"

When one begins life from the humblest station and grasps opportunities, one after the other; begins to climb the ladder of success, which all of us seek; is honored with appointments to public office and performs the services well and faithfully; achieves leadership of the great Republican party of the greatest Republican city and sits as a member of this august legislative chamber, comparable to any in the world, it is right and fitting that we Senators pay a tribute of respect to the memory of such a colleague.

Senator Martin was born August 20, 1845, and entered politics as a youngster. He was a skillful organizer, possessed of tact and keenness. He was true to his word and loyal as a friend, and soon gathered around him innumerable associates. He was a natural leader of men. It has been said, and with authority, that, of all Philadelphia leaders, from William B. Mann to the present time, David Martin displayed the best generalship. In private life he was a devoted and loving husband, and adored his family surroundings.

I am a member of this Senate because Senator Martin wanted it so. He put his heart and soul into a terrific campaign, fighting against all odds. He had pitted against him the combined forces of a powerful administration, a united press, an unlimited treasury. But, against all, his generalship was victorious, and I shall never forget the midnight of the primaries, only thirteen days before he died, when I entered his headquarters to announce to him that I had won. Tears covered the old man's face, he grasped me by my hand and, fairly shaking with joy, covered me with his warm caresses. Ah, Senators, far better the moment were Senator Martin here, to sit beside me and to see with what affection and gratitude I hold him in my heart. But the call to the great beyond came to him without warning and, laying aside the affairs of life, he departed. He died when he was 75 years old. A great public servant and benefactor passed away.

"So live that when they summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan, that moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not like the quarry-slave at night
Scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, he approached his grave
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, and fellow members of the Senate. It is my esteemed privilege to speak today in memory of one of Pennsylvania's most loyal citizens, the late Hon. David Martin. Our love and loyalty cannot let this day pass without an expression of hearty since regard for one who nobly gave of his time, talent and energy to build and enrich the principles of the Republican party, which he served with never-ceasing zeal. His devotion to the ideals of the Republican party went hand in hand with his love and service to his city, his State and his nation. These were inseparable.

Although he was a staunch Republican, yet he never let party or creed deter him from expressing that broader love and helpfulness to all his fellowmen.

Senator Martin was born on the Rosehill Farm in Philadelphia County, seventy-six years ago. When of age he immediately entered politics, and soon after was elected a member of the Republican Executive Committee, on which he faithfully served for about fifty years. He was elected a delegate to nearly every National Republican Convention since 1872—helping there to nominate Harrison, McKinley and Roosevelt as Presidential candidates. He served as sergeant-at-arms in the State House of Representatives in 1873, and in the same office in the National House in 1881.

In positions of leadership and trust, whether in the House, Senate, as Collector of Internal Aevenue, as Insurance Commissioner or as Secretary of the Commonwealth he performed his duties in a most admirable way, and he made and kept many warm friends through almost half a century of party service and leadership.

Today, as we pay respect to his memory, we feel that those who knew him best love him best, and, though he has passed to his reward, yet we remember him and speak of him as one who has a loyal friend, a loyal citizen and one who served his fellow countrymen.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, it was my good fortune to be at the home of the late Senator Martin quite recently, and there on the wall hung the photograph of His Excellency the Governor, and written under this photograph were the words "To the Honorable Dvaid Martin, wise counselor and trusted friend, to a long and happy association, with respect and good wishes. Wm. C. Sproul." In a few words, that covers a goodly portion of the life of our late Senator. I do not intend to go into details as to his long political career, that has been gone over by those who proceeded me. The Senator seemed to take for his vocation the life of a politician, we might almost say, and say safely, the life of a statesman. The life of a politician leads along hard roads and is not at all times rightly understood, and if rightly understood, circumstances may come in which it is not to the best interests of those opposed to him to publicly proclaim the man's real good qualifications, because it is not feasable at the time, and any man who takes up a vocation such as that is bound in his travels along the higsways and byways of life to meet opposition unfair and unkind. For a man to be successful as a politician, you must have three attributes, at least. He must be patriotic, he must be loyal to his friends and devoted to his family. If you were to ask me in which of these three qualifications the late Senator Martin showed best, I would be unable, with my vocabulary, to explain the same to you. His patriotism was unquestioned. He started out in his political life, at least, as a Republican, so much so that, in his early days, he took up the cause of the protective tariff, and in his younger days there was a man in England by the name of Cobden, who was a free trader. He was known throughout the confines of England and other countries wherein the question of protective tariff arose. David Martin took up the cudgel in this part of the country and established what now exists, and existed at that time, the Anti-Cobden Club, which is the strongest political club in this country today. He stuck stoutly and steadfastly to his belief in a protective tariff as being one of the fundamental principles for the success of this country. The next of those qualifications for a successful man in politics is loyalty to his friends. If there ever lived a man who exceeded the late Honorable David Martin in loyalty to his friends, the name of that man has never come to my attention. They say Davy Martin is dead. It is true his spirit has passed away, but he is not dead, for along the lines of his life's beginning, in his youth to the present day, there is a stream of men who are at this time reaping the benefits of his loyalty and devotion to them. Men in all walks of political life, men from the humbler positions of a laborer to judges of the Supreme Court of this State, and men who held, and now hold, prominent positions in the Government of the United States, men who owe their elevation to that loyalty and devotion and sincerity of David Martin to his friends. He never left a friend and a friend never left him, and no matter how bitterly political opposition waged against him or what effort was made to defeat him in any of his political battles, they never succeeded because the loyalty that he displayed towards his friends was paid back to him by those friends. They stood all for one and one for all. Above all things that tend to make a man successful in political life if he intends to remain successful is his devotion to his family. No man can stand the light of day in a political battle who is not loyal to his home, is not moral to the greatest and largest extent, and can stand the scrutiny of public opinion. In this David Martin, I feel, excelled, and right now, as we stand on the floor of this Senate, in the home surrounded by all the luxuries of life, is his bowed and broken-spirited wife, marking time, without a smile on her face, waiting for the day when the great Judge above shall call her to meet her life's companion and loyal husband, the Honorable David Martin.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?
The yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:
